October new date for A&E to reopen

STAFFORD HOSPITAL'S accident and emergency department will remain closed overnight until October, four months later than originally hoped.

Hospital bosses cut its opening hours last December for safety reasons, deciding that a number of requirements needed to be met before it could stay open through the night.

In April the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust (MSFT) board noted that the majority of the requirements had been reached and it had been planned to reopen the unit on a more permanent basis in June.

After a meeting this week it was agreed that October would be a more appropriate month to work towards.

Progress

Tracey Shewan, assistant director of corporate affairs for the Staffordshire Cluster of PCTs, said: "The Mid-Staffordshire Commissioning Board, which is chaired by the Cannock and Stafford and Surrounds Clinical Commissioning Groups, congratulated Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust on the significant progress that had been made."

"It was jointly agreed that we would work towards a reopening in October 2012."

Arrest made on pub fight

A MAN needed stitches to his ear following an altercation at a Cannock pub.

The man, in his 40s, required hospital treatment following the incident in the Linford Arms, Market Place, at around 10.15pm on Sunday (May 6).

A 42-year-old man was arrested and released on bail pending further inquiries. Witnesses are asked to call DC Christopher Lovatt on 01785 234205 or the non-emergency number 101.

Members of South Staffs MG Owners Club get ready for the MGs in the Trees event

Stars the cars at owners club's annual fundraiser

HUNDREDS of classic car enthusiasts will be showing off their prides and joy this weekend.

The annual MGs in the Trees event has been switched from Cannock Chase, where it has been held since its inception five years ago, and will instead be held at Chasewater Railway on Sunday (May 13).

The show has been organised by the South Staffs MG Owners Club and is set to attract more than 100 exhibitors as well as thousands of visitors. The organisers hope more than £1,000 will be raised from the event for Cancer Research. Sponsored by Paul Depper MGs, it will kick off at around 9am.

The South Staffs MG Owners Club was formed more than 30 years ago and meets every second and fourth Wednesday from 8.30pm at Cheslyn Hay Working Men's Club in Station Street. It currently has more than 130 members.

Traders to fly the flag at market for jubilee

TWO markets are being held at the site Penkridge over the Jubilee bank holiday weekend.

In addition to the usual market stalls, there will be a range of activities including a bouncy castle and a cupcake competition. The events will run from 9am to 3pm on both Saturday, June 2 and Monday, June 4. There will be around 70 traders and the market will be decorated with traditional bunting, creating a street party atmosphere.

On the Saturday there will be a competition to see who can decorate the best cupcake, with each cupcake then being placed within a giant Union flag design.

Excited

The winner will be announced on the Saturday afternoon.

On the Monday there will also be a car boot sale, with approximately 50 sellers expected.

Market manager Matt Williams said: "We're really excited about our jubilee weekend and have purposefully kept the event free so that everyone can come and enjoy our celebrations."

"It's a brilliant day out whatever the weather," he added.

The school is one of five in the UK chosen to take part in the Shell Eco-Marathon, which will see students design, build and test energy efficient vehicles. They depart for Holland tomorrow (Friday).

The competition takes place in Rotterdam from May 17-19.

LIBRARY CLOSURE WORRIES ALLAYED

By Tim Spiers

COUNTY Council chiefs have moved to allay fears about the long-term future of Cannock Library, amid speculation it is to be incorporated within the town's South Staffordshire College campus.

An official announcement on the destination of the facility in Manor Avenue would appear to be due soon, but commercial confidentiality agreements are currently preventing the council from disclosing its future ahead of potential planning applications being lodged.

Activities

County Councillor Pat Corfield, cabinet member for culture, communities and customers, said discussions were at an early stage regarding expansion plans for Cannock Library.

"Cannock Library is much loved by local residents - including myself - because it offers a great range of services, events and activities from tots time and kids clubs to wi-fi access, jobs advice, computer lessons and so much more," the county councillor for Cannock town centre said.

"Staffordshire County Council has a clear policy to maintain libraries and the valuable service they provide to our communities."

"We are in the very early stages of discussing exciting opportunities to enlarge the library space in Cannock town centre but I'm not sure we can give any more detail at this stage."

"I can, however, reassure residents that the future of Cannock Library is secure."

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said a bigger library would be of huge benefit to the community, adding: "It's vital that we keep a good-sized library in Cannock."

"It's one of the most well-used libraries in Staffordshire and as long as it's fully available to the public, as I'm assured it will be, that will be fine."

In February when Cheslyn Hay Library was relocated to the village's parish hall, from High Street.

A similar move four years ago saw user numbers rise by 40 per cent at Great Wyrley Library.

Pete Walke, left and Dave Hale at the Littleton Arms. The pair have had a large St George's flag stolen

Theft mystery is blowing in wind

PUB regulars have been left baffled and annoyed after a St George's flag which had stood proudly for six years was stolen from its flagpole.

Staff at The Littleton Arms, in Huntington, erected the flag in 2006 when England were playing in the World Cup and later received council backing to make it a permanent fixture.

It had stood on the old Littleton Colliery spoil mound but was stolen in the early hours of last Thursday (May 3). Pub manager Dave Hale, said his regulars had all been asking what had happened to the flag.

The large stainless steel pole from which the flag flew, is still partly attached. Mr Hale said: "It's more annoying than anything as it's been there that long. It's been a really popular flag ever since we put it up."

"Originally the council didn't seem to want it, but everybody said how much they liked it and we managed to keep it, so it's got a bit of history. We'll definitely be putting a new one back up."

Huntington parish council was due to discuss a replacement flag at a meeting tonight (Thursday 10).

Council chairman Jeff Ashley, said: "It's a real shame. The parish council will certainly provide another flag, but at the moment we're waiting for things to develop."

Opticians focus on vital home service

A LEADING opticians is reaching out to vulnerable people in the community by providing a free home visits service for housebound patients.

Chase Eyecare has a branch in High Green, Cannock and Market Street, Hednesford and is just one of a few practices in Staffordshire which offers free home visits to people with mobility problems.

The service is available to anyone requiring a home visit on account of a physical or mental disability.

Peter Hughes, aged 79, from Hednesford, was born with polio and spent many years on crutches. He is now confined to a wheelchair.

He held a top job in the probation service over a career spanning 35 years and first came into contact with Chase Eyecare when he temporarily lost vision due to bleeding at the back of his right eye.

The practice also offers free emergency appointments and Shakeel Puri, clinical director at Chase Eyecare, arranged for Mr Hughes to travel by ambulance to hospital where he received treatment.

Mr Hughes now receives a visit regularly from Mr Puri and his team. Mr Hughes said: "The home visit service is vital for me. It is obviously very difficult for me to get out now so to receive eye care examinations in the comfort of my own home is just marvellous."

Mr Puri said: "There are many people eligible for a free home visit. We are one of a very small number of opticians in Staffordshire who provide this quite vital service and if there are people out there who are putting off having an eye examination due to mobility issues they should please get in touch with us."

Town scheme on track to open by end of year

THE newly-realigned Victoria Street in Hednesford town centre is set to open within the next two weeks as St Modwen's £50m transformation scheme takes a major step forward.

Seven new retail units at the Chase Gateway on Market Street are also due to be completed in early June, making way for the construction of the new Victoria Shopping Park, which will include an 80,000 sq ft store Tesco and a 640 space car park, a terrace of non-food retail units, and a retail kiosk and replacement community building, all served by new bus stops.

This next phase of construction work, which will create more than 600 jobs once completed, will see the closure of Market Street, from Cardigan Place to Rugeley Road from about June 6 for two weeks.

Closer

St Modwen development surveyor Mark Watkins said the swift progress of the scheme meant the Victoria Shopping Park was set to be fully open by the end of the year.

"With the opening of Victoria Street and the completion of the Market Street retail units over the next few weeks, St Modwen's regeneration project is on track and we are getting closer to achieving our vision for Hednesford town centre, including the opening of Tesco and other retail units ready for Christmas trading."

The retail scheme is the final stage in the regeneration project which has already delivered four retail units facing Rugeley Road at Chase Gateway, a Reserve Forces and Cadets Association (RFCA) building located between the new Tesco store and Hednesford Park and the Hednesford Bingo club.

former Aquarius Community/Dance Hall will be completed later this year.

Glenn Watson, Economic Development Manager at Cannock Chase Council, said: "As we enter a new phase of the Hednesford Gateway project we would like to thank the people of Hednesford for their patience and the support they have shown to the construction teams working on site. The closure of Market Street is likely to bring some disruption to pedestrians and vehicles in the town centre and I'd like to apologise in advance for this. The works are necessary to deliver this phase of the Hednesford Gateway project by the end of 2012."

Construction began on the comprehensive town centre scheme in April 2011 after developer St. Modwen was granted planning approval by Cannock Chase Council.

Group is facing a journey to space

A DRAMA group is journeying into outer space for its latest production. The Aldridge Musical Comedy Society is performing Return to the Forbidden Planet.

The show is based on a film from the 1960s but has been injected with songs from the era such as Wipeout, Young Girl, Monster Mash, Good Vibrations and Great Balls of Fire.

It follows Captain Tempest and his crew on the SS Albatross as they meet a mad scientist, roller skating robot and a monster from outer space.

It is being staged at Great Wyrley Performing Arts School, Hall Lane, from Thursday to Saturday, May 17 to 19 at 7.30pm each night. There will also be a 2.30pm Saturday matinee.

The group has been going for 45 years and performs two shows each year. Rehearsals are held at Keeling School of Dance in Aldridge on a Wednesday night.

A group spokesman said: "The cast have all been working really hard for the last five months on the show."

Tickets are £12 adults, £9 concessions. To book, or for more details about the group, call 01543 480626.

Man hurt in club brawl

A fight broke out between two men at Silks, Mill Street, early on Sunday, April 22. The brawlers were thrown out and a 21-year-old victim suffered facial injuries and was taken to Walsall Manor Hospital.

Officers want to trace a white man, aged 23-24, around 6ft 2ins tall, of big build with light brown short hair. He may be missing two front teeth lost in the melee.

Anyone with information is asked to call Dc Victoria Wilde on 101.

Reward is put up to find Rosie

Missing dog Rosie

A REWARD of £200 has been offered for the safe return of a beloved family pet who went missing in Rugeley last month.

Pamela Wood was left heartbroken when her two-year-old Yorkshire Terrier escaped from a side gate at her Hagley Road home on April 13, between 9am and 10.30am.

Mrs Wood has received two phone calls from members of the public saying they may have seen the black, tan and gold-coloured dog, called Rosie.

Mrs Wood said she hoped the reward would encourage people to come forward with any news.

Anyone with information should call Mrs Wood on 01889 570239.

Boys in a lather over car wash fundraiser

Boys Brigade members get ready for the car wash in Cheslyn Hay

MEMBERS of a Boys Brigade are getting in a lather as they try to raise funds to enter a carnival procession.

For the first time in many years, Cheslyn Hay Boys Brigade are entering a float at Great Wyrley Carnival. This year's event takes place on June 30 and to help the brigade raise funds, the boys will be busy washing cars.

The fundraising car wash takes place on Saturday, May 26 at the Salem church car park in Cheslyn Hay from 2-5pm. Boys from the junior and company sections, aged from eight, will be involved in the car wash and will be charging £2 per car.

There will also be a cake stall and tombola to help swell the coffers.

Float

Officer Jo Ridgway said: "I thought it would be a good idea to get involved in the float this year."

"It will have a Best of British theme and our float will be based on football and the 1966 World Cup."

Cheslyn Hay Boys Brigade currently has around 50 members. Meetings are held at the Salem Church, in High Street.

Monday nights are for the Anchor group, aged five-to-eight, the Juniors, aged up to 11, meet on Fridays, while Wednesdays is the night for the Company, those 11-plus.

Outside childcare provision could save council £800,000

DAYTIME childcare at county council-run children's centres in Staffordshire – including one in Cannock – could be taken over by the private or voluntary sector.

Staffordshire County Council provides daytime childcare at six of its 54 children's centres including those at Stafford Children's Centre on Faraday Road and at Cannock Road, in Blackfords.

Bosses say this accounts for just 2.8 per cent of childcare provision in the county and that a bid to provide these outside of local authorities would make £800,000 of savings.

Children's centres in Staffordshire currently run a range of services including baby care, toddler care, childcare development and support for young people.

If the proposals are approved the recommendations would be put in place in 18 months. A meeting of the council's cabinet will discuss the plans next Wednesday (May 16).

Red tape

It is not yet known how the proposals would affect employees at council-run centres.

The proposals also include cutting red tape by running children's centres according to geographical boundaries to improve efficiency.

Ian Parry, deputy county

by Richard Woodall

council leader, said: "When we came into power on the council we inherited 54 children's centres."

"We want to improve what they do. We want to make sure there is a level playing field and encourage the private and independent sector to deliver high-quality childcare provision."

"There are a number of private nurseries and independent providers such as a groups of parents or voluntary groups like churches."

"We have 97 per cent of childcare provided by the voluntary and private sectors. Council childcare places currently account for just 2.8 per cent of all provision within Staffordshire. This plan will even out the price of childcare."

The plans follow a consultation between January and March which prompted more than 208 responses.

Mining-inspired artwork

A NEW exhibition celebrating the coal mining industry has launched at the Museum of Cannock Chase. The Valley Road, Hednesford, venue is displaying the works of Janet Buckle until June 17.

The artist's paintings, drawings and prints are inspired by the mining landscapes of South Yorkshire. Her works were based at the National Coal Mining Museum for England, in Yorkshire, earlier this year.

Museum services manager Annette French said: "Her work shows the impact of colliery surface workings on the landscape."

The Museum of Cannock Chase is open daily from 11am-5pm. Admission is free.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

A REPORT being considered by ministers suggests that bad teachers should be paid less than good teachers. Surely bad teachers shouldn't be paid at all.

□□□□□□□□

MAYBE the long delays at Heathrow are a fiendishly clever way of establishing whether people are who they claim to be. Anyone who cannot queue patiently for a couple of hours is clearly not British.

I AWOKE to a strange sense of déjà vu as the Bank of England boss Sir Mervyn King explained that as the banking crisis approached, he should have done more to raise the alarm. As he put it: "With the benefit of hindsight, we should have shouted from the rooftops."

I interviewed Gordon Brown when he was prime minister and asked if he had any regrets. With hindsight, Brown explained piously, he should have done more to alert to world to the lack of regulation in the banking system.

Curious, isn't it, that they did not share their foreboding with each other and do something about it before the system collapsed? Who knows what they might have achieved by shouting from the rooftops together? Instead, both men now accept blame, not for sinning, but for failing to point out the sins of others. Behold, the art of the guiltless apology.

□□□□□□□□

A SURVEY this week reports that social mobility and the gap between rich and poor is worse in Britain than in any other western state. No surprises there. In the second half of the 20th century this country was largely run by politicians who owed their own social mobility to the grammar schools which took them from terraced streets to Oxbridge. Having benefited from the greatest aids to social mobility Britain has ever seen, those same politicians closed the grammars down. It was madness and today we are reaping the consequences.

□□□□□□□□

MEANWHILE, a young friend who is a product of one of Britain's few remaining grammar schools started work recently and was given a hard time by the office manager who insisted on calling him "posh boy". Eventually the lad stood his ground and explained: "I'm not posh, I'm clever."

□□□□□□□□

A READER admits he may be responsible for the recent downpours. He was apparently engaged in some ancient English rain-ritual involving white clothes, several pieces of wood and a red ball.

□□□□□□□□

THE European Commission says the EU gold-stars flag should fly permanently over Whitehall. Why not? They run the place.

□□□□□□□□

FIGURES released by the Ministry of Justice show that over the past 10 years the biggest increase in the rates of criminals who re-offend is among juveniles who received a community penalty. But the proportion of juveniles who re-offend after a spell behind bars has fallen significantly. In other words, whatever the do-gooders try to tell us, prison works.

Owners to test pets' agility at dog show

THE DOG that looks most like its owner and the prettiest bitch are among the categories at a canine show at Chasewater next weekend.

Lichfield District Council's parks team is inviting dog lovers to their 'wet noses and waggy tails' event at the country park on Sunday, May 20, from 11am to 4pm.

It will include displays, novelty classes, the chance to microchip your dog for a fiver, photography, a guided walk, stalls and refreshments, as well as a guest appearance by 'Toto' who starred in The Wizard of Oz at The Prince of Wales Centre.

Other competitions include the most handsome dog, the waggiest tail and the best party trick, with heelwork, obedience classes and greyhound training among the other activities.

Free dog displays will take place throughout the day.

Cost to enter a class is £1 or £3 for all four. The winner from each class will win a rosette and small prize.

For more information, call Lichfield District Council's parks team on 01543 370607 or email chasewater@lichfieldcc.gov.uk

Sell-out for Chase gigs

THIS year's Cannock Chase concerts, with Plan B and Will Young, have sold out.

The acts will take the outdoor stage in front of thousands over two consecutive nights on June 29 and 30. More than 5,000 tickets were available for each night and they have all been sold with months to go.

Alastair Semple, for the Forestry Commission said: "They are two hot acts at the moment and we always knew they were going to sell. We had 1,300 people coming here to collect them in person and the rest were all sold over the internet."

Cash for Bower

A VALUATION day in Lichfield raised more than £60 for the city's annual Bower Festival. Richard Winterton Auctioneers held the one-off event at Lichfield Guildhall, overseen by Fine Arts Associate Adrian Rathbone. Treasures were valued for a small donation, which went straight to the Bower Fund.

COUNCIL RESULTS 2012

Take it as red as Labour now back in full control

LABOUR took total control of Cannock Chase Council having been a minority administration for the past year.

A third of the seats were up for election last Thursday (May 3) with 14 candidates contesting 13 different wards on the 41-seat council, two of them being elected to the Hagley ward.

Labour gained seven seats on the authority, increasing its total to 24 from the previous 17.

Meanwhile, the Conservatives lost one seat, reducing their tally from 13 to 12 and the Liberal Democrats saw its numbers fall from nine to five after losing four seats.

There were two Liberal seats which were both lost by the incumbent councillors.

Reforms

Welcoming the results and Labour taking overall control of the council, leader George Adamson, said: "This is a tremendous result for Labour."

"We've taken seats from all the other parties. People do not like this government with its NHS reforms and tax cuts for the rich."

"People were angry about George Osborne's tax breaks for millionaires," he added. "We've been listening to people and campaigning hard. But we know that the coalition is going to impose more cuts on local government. That's going to hit services."

"This result serves notice to Aidan Burley and means he can start packing his bags," said Councillor Adamson.

Cannock Chase Conservative MP Aidan Burley, who was at the count, said: "I am very disappointed. Labour have a very big job on their hands to prove they can run a council competently."

Turnout was very low at 24.5 per cent. Former Council chairman John Beddows, aged 77, was the Tory councillor who lost his Norton Canes seat to Labour's Zaphne Stretton.

Mr Beddows, who owns Portland Eye Care in Bridgton, and has been on the council for eight years, said: "I have achieved a lot in my lifetime. I'm very philosophical about it."

"It means that I can now look in a different direction," he added. When Labour councillor Gordon Brown resigned his Hagley seat, it triggered a by-election, but Andy Lovell and Brian Bottomer both secured the ward for Labour as Liberal Party councillor Tony Williams lost his seat.

Councillor Mike Sutherland, who leads the Conservatives, said the party would still be concentrating on getting value for taxpayers' money.

Freedom of town plan considered

COUNCILLORS are to consider plans to introduce a Freedom of Cannock Chase honour for the district's residents. The freedom of the borough initiative runs in other towns including Stafford, but Cannock has never had one in place.

It sees towns and cities recognise those who have made a positive contribution to the community.

In Cannock, it could also recognise the military service of those with links to the town.

Stafford has eight or nine freedom of the borough occasions each year. One, in March, saw sailors from HMS Collingwood march through Stafford and Stone.

George Adamson, leader of Cannock Chase District Council, said: "In Hednesford I came across a war veteran who had lost both legs in Afghanistan.

"He was someone who had served this country and I just thought that in Cannock we have never had a freedom of the borough.

"I have instructed an officer to do a report which will be discussed at the council's annual meeting on May 23."

Councillor Alan Pearson, chairman of Hednesford Town Council, said he also supported the plans.

Reunion for ex-scholars

FORMER students at a Hednesford school are invited to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee together.

Kingsmead Technology College is looking for pupils from the 1950s and 60s days of Littleworth Secondary Modern. The event takes place from 9.30 to 11.30 am on Thursday, May 31.

The school is looking for former students to view its 1950s exhibition of work. There will also be activities including a 'making memories' bunting project, performances from current students and refreshments.

Restaurant staff and pupils rid the streets of litter

Dean Haynes, McDonald's staff and school children during the clean-up

A RESTAURANT manager enlisted the help of the public for a clean-up operation at a littering hotspot.

McDonald's business manager Dean Haynes and staff from the chain's Cannock restaurants sought to rid the Mill Green area of the unsightly rubbish.

Held in support of Keep Britain Tidy's 'Love Where You Live' campaign, the McDonald's tidy team were joined by pupils and staff from Bridgtown Primary. The crew of 22 volunteers filled six bags of litter in a two-mile stretch.

Mr Haynes said: "It was inspiring to see members of the community join forces to take action on litter that damages our environment. Unfortunately there are still a significant proportion of people who think it's acceptable to drop litter.

"I'd like to thank my staff and Bridgtown Primary School for their hard work and setting a good example of what can be achieved if people pull together."

Campaign

The event was just one of a number of McDonald's clean-up events taking place to support the campaign.

Restaurant staff patrol the streets at least three times a day to collect all litter that has been discarded.

Apartment plans passed as elderly population growing

A £13m scheme to build 82 new apartments for older people in Penkridge has been given the go-ahead. A meeting heard South Staffordshire had the fastest rising elderly population in the country.

Planning chiefs on South Staffs District Council said there was a real need for more housing for elderly people in the county as they supported plans for the site of the former Silverdene nursing home in Tildesley Close. Some residents raised fears about the scale of the new extra care complex.

Karen Krstic, who addressed the committee, labelled the planned development "a monstrosity".

She said campaigners understood the need for more elderly provision but added: "The site is totally impractical and out of proportion to the land available."

Residents claim it will look out of place in the village and should be reduced or a more suitable location found.

But Ursula Bennion, speaking on behalf of the applicants, South Staffordshire Housing Association, said there was a massive ageing population in South Staffordshire.

Zumba classes for the novices

A ZUMBA class aimed specifically at seniors and beginners has been launched in Cannock.

The first Zumba Gold session took place at the Avon Business and Leisure Centre last week, run by Angie Hart.

She has been inspired to set up her own classes by the woman she calls "the guru" - Maggie Palmer - after taking part in Zumba sessions in Hednesford.

Last March Angie gained her first Zumba teaching certificate and then set up her first class in Chadswood, which went so well she decided to launch another.

Enjoyable

"Zumba Gold is ideal for all - beginners, seniors, diabetics and anyone needing modification to their exercise routine," Angie said. "It will be an hour of fun, laughs and enjoyable exercise."

"It's great to hear my senior ladies boast to their grandchildren 'I do Zumba'."

The new class will take place every Tuesday from 12.30pm to 1.30pm at the centre in Avon Road.

Sessions cost £4 each. For more information call Angie on 07806 280713.

Charge of asbestos in school set for hearing

A CASE against brought Staffordshire County Council after asbestos fibres were released into a primary school is to be heard at the crown court.

The incident had happened on February 13, 2009 at Glenhorne Primary in Cheslyn Hay. Staff and around 178 pupils were sent home. The school was closed until June.

Stafford magistrates declined jurisdiction. The county council is charged with two counts of breaching its general duty to employee.

Also charged is Rugeley building firm G Evans (Services), with two counts of breaching general duty to employee.

Christopher Keeling of Stone Road, Stafford, is charged with employee breach general duty at work. All three gave no indication of pleas.

The case will next be heard at the magistrates court in Stafford on June 20 for the committal date to be set for crown court.

Increase

She said there was a need for such accommodation and the complex had been well designed.

Figures used to support the application have shown the South Staffordshire has the fastest growing population of over-85s in the UK.

A marketing survey by the district council has shown the 80-plus population is due to increase by almost 150 per cent over the next 20 years.

The number of over-65s is also due to rise by two-thirds.

An increase of 13,400 people in the over 65s group is predicted up to 2031, with the 80-plus category rising by 7,500.

Pub owner baffled by apprentice deal apathy

A RUGELEY pub restaurant owner has been left scratching his head after advertising for four apprentices – with no one taking up the offer.

The vacancies at The Red Lion in Brereton are for two front-of-house staff and two kitchen workers.

The apprenticeships have been advertised on a government website and at job centres for the past month. Owner Doug Wilkinson said he was shocked at the lack of response. "It beggars belief. I thought there was a recession on," he said.

The vacancies generated just three inquiries. Two interviews were arranged but no one turned up.

Another inquiry was received from a young hopeful from Stafford but he did not drive and the buses did not fit in with shift times.

College

"I'm absolutely dumbfounded," said Mr Wilkinson, aged 53. "I'd rather give apprentices a chance than take on experienced staff."

"At the end of 18 months to two years they will have received the equivalent of an NVQ level 3/4 qualification without having to attend college if they don't want to go."

"At the same time those aged 16 to 18 get paid over £100 a week, with a different pay structure for those who are older. That's not bad money given they're getting a qualification at the end of it."

"Our second chef has worked in the French Alps and all over Europe, it's a great chance for them."

Manager Stephen Cornes said front-of-house duties included welcoming customers, taking bookings and answering the phone while the kitchen posts involved

Chef Gavin Evans and manager Stephen Cornes outside The Red Lion pub in Brereton which is advertising for apprentices preparation work, pot wash, plating up and cooking. "I honestly don't understand the lack of interest," he said. "We've been shocked by the response."

Mr Wilkinson took over The Red Lion 14 months ago and has transformed the business in that time.

He said: "We're lucky to be in this position. We're doing extremely well and we're desperate for staff."

Developer is facing jail over child porn images

Vets will paws for tea

VETS in Rugeley are hoping to lead the way when they paws for their normal duties to host a cake sale.

Donnachie and Townley, in Market Street, is hosting the sale on Monday (May 14) to raise funds for animal charity Blue Cross.

The Paws for Tea event, from 9am to 6pm, will see a variety of cakes offered to visitors in exchange for a donation.

Head nurse Joanne Waldron said: "It's a very worthwhile charity. Call 01889 582023 for details.

A PROPERTY developer faces jail after being convicted of possessing thousands of child pornography pictures.

Father-of-two Robin Saunders, who was also a part-time construction lecturer at Bilston College, is feared to have had up to 280,000 indecent images on his computers.

The 46-year-old, now of Queens Road, Calfe Heath, was trapped after a prostitute he picked up in Wolverhampton was so disgusted by the pictures she saw on his laptop that she alerted police and gave them the registration number of his Jeep.

The woman also noted that one of the girls was called Paris. That name proved vital for police as they combed an estimated one million computer files for the offending material on Saunders' laptop, home computer and external hard drive.

Police traced Saunders through his registration number and his home in Linnet Close, Cannock, was raided.

An expert found traces of 280,000 indecent images while scouring the computers in the complex case that took two-and-a-half years to reach court, Wolverhampton crown court heard.

A jury took 46 minutes to unanimously find Saunders guilty of 13 charges of possessing indecent images, two of possessing extreme pornography and one of showing an indecent photograph of a child.

He had denied all the offences claiming to have been set up by either a disgruntled business partner or unnamed relative.

Saunders was remanded on bail for reports and will be sentenced on May 29.

Potential cost of changing machines

RE: Graham Burnett's letter of April 26, I wrote to Aidan Burley in September 2010 about the impact that changes to 5/10p coins could have.

In his response, he said: "I can confirm it is the Treasury's intention to introduce new 5p and 10p coins, struck in nickel-coated steel, to supplement the circulating cupronickel alloy coins of the same denomination."

"On the basis that the change to a cheaper metal will save between £7/£8m per year, and because samples of the new coinage are already in the process of being supplied, the Government has no plans to reverse the forthcoming change."

While cheaper metal will save £7/£8m, this is a pittance compared to the potential cost that could impact on citizens nationwide if vending machines have to be modified".

Not so desperate for family homes

I WOULD like to respond to your article of April 26, regarding tenants' cash carrot to leave homes for families.

My wife and I are in our 50s and occupy a Cannock Council three-bed property. Our children left home some time ago so this property is too big for us and more suited to a family.

It is becoming increasingly difficult for us to maintain, especially financially. About three years ago we thought we should try and 'do the right thing' and apply for a smaller property. This involved dealing with Uchoose homes and declaring interest in available one-bed properties, which we did. We were never offered anything.

We came to the conclusion that we were wasting our time and would never be offered anything.

We are both Cannock born and bred, we work, albeit for low wages and do not claim benefits. We do not have any medical needs and are not drug addicts or alcoholics. If we decided to try again, apparently everything has to be done 'online' now.

We do not have a computer, but on pointing this out to Uchoose homes I was asked: 'Can't you get a friend or relative to do it for you!'

Desperate for family homes! Tell it to the fairies!

Appeal over tracing news about mother

I HAVE a rather unusual request to make in that I now live in Western Australia, and at the age of 65 I found that I had been adopted out as a baby and my adopted parents shifted to Australia in 1950.

I have had a great life in a wonderful family, but under FOI I found my birth mother's name, Joan Elsie Moore, born in 1922, and later received correspondence from the welfare home that she had written, expressing her concerns about my welfare. I have tried all the usual avenues, ancestry.com etc to no avail. I don't know if she emigrated or what became of her as I cannot find a record of her death.

I believe she had cousins by the name of Garbett who live in Cannock, but White Pages enquiries indicate there are 74 Garbets listed in Cannock.

I am hoping you may be able to advertise for any Garbett knowing what became of Joan Elsie to contact me.

I am hoping you will be able to assist.

All pay – or no one does

HAVING just read a letter explaining the reason for cost increases I am unable to understand why with modern technology the council do not install machines that give change. If it costs £1.20 to park and you only have £1.50, then you lose your money but get no extra parking time. Secondly why not make blue badge holders pay? They get preferential spaces which I agree with but they can afford to pay like the rest of us. When I was out of work I had to pay when signing on so let's be fair. We all pay or no one pays.

Appalled at MP's memorial no-show

I AM appalled that our local MP Aidan Burley did not turn up for the Miners' Memorial celebration in Hednesford on Saturday, April 28.

This is an insult to hundreds of families in our community who are proud of their mining heritage and whose fathers and grandfathers gave so much to our country.

His failure to turn up at such an important local event, coupled with his fall-off in attendance at Parliament – down by a third since his infamous stag weekend – leaves me asking 'what exactly is he doing for his constituents?'

Surely it's now time for him to resign and let the people of Cannock Chase elect someone who actually cares about their interests – and their proud mining heritage!

Looking forward to serving town again

IN the harsh light of morning it is never easy to accept an election defeat even if I can to some extent console myself, as many have told me, that it reflects more the performance of the coalition in the last four weeks than my record over the past four years.

Indeed, I have really enjoyed my term as councillor for Hednesford North, helping many many people and making friends with some of them. I will continue to listen and learn from the message that last Thursday night delivered.

These remain difficult times. Labour's years of excess leading up to 2010 have left us a legacy that will take the country years to overcome. Inevitably that will affect us here in Hednesford so I will still be around to help and support where needed. I can still be contacted on the same number of 01543 422433 and the same email of graham.bur@gmail.com.

I would like to thank the people in Hednesford for the last four years and really look forward to serving you all again in the future.

Uplifting dedication

MANY thanks to Chase Arts in Public Spaces (Chaps) for the dedication of the mining memorial in Hednesford on Saturday afternoon, April 28. The prayers and hymns were uplifting to lovely music and song.

It was very cold but dry so we were grateful for tea, coffee and biscuits given by Bella's Cafe which we thank you all.

Long may it continue.

Students give an insight into rock band

Media progression coach Karen Jenkins with band members Levi Keeling and Alistair Keenan

A GROUP of media students at South Staffordshire College have produced a DVD documentary and a fan magazine for up-and-coming rock band Taking Hayley.

The Year 2 BTEC Extended Diploma in Media students are based at the college's Progress Centre in Cannock. They took on the project to gain hands-on film-making and media publishing experience. The students worked with the band for several months, producing hours of film footage, taking photos, recording interviews and showcasing the band's performances and story to date.

A presentation took place at the Progress Centre, where media progression coach Karen Jenkins handed over the final cut of the DVD and magazine to band members Levi Keeling and Alistair Keeling. Team leaders Calin Dermott and Matthew Watton said the project was a fantastic opportunity to work on a 'real life' project.

MP library extension call

SOUTH Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson wants to see "tens of thousands of pounds" spent on extending a community library.

Local politicians are keen to see Great Wyrley Library at Quinton Court Shopping Centre expanded into an empty adjacent unit.

Tory MP Mr Williamson, together with county councillors Kath Perry and Mike Lawrence have called for major improvements to be made at the Wardles Lane facility. Mr Williamson believes a cash injection would be a great boost for both the library and wider community.

Mr Williamson said: "The library is valued by so many, and it acts as a real hub for the local community."

"I am sure that it would be an enormous boost to Great Wyrley. It would be an investment for the future."

"Being realistic, it would cost tens of thousands of pounds – £10,000 to £30,000 – but it would be money well invested for the future."

Councillor Perry said: "We have spoken about the library many times and the need for it to be extended. This is an ideal opportunity for us to try to move this project forward."

"I know that this would be of great benefit to the community of Great Wyrley who are desperate for a site for a community café," she added.

Councillor Lawrence said: "It is our ambition to see the library grow."

Bob Finch during his West Brom days

Teacher John Martin in Villa colours

When winger Jackie had stomach for big occasion

OF the 101 players that have moved from Hednesford Town to the Football League, 40 made the switch in a prolific period between the two world wars.

One, diminutive winger Jackie Maund had an uncanny ability to mesmerise defenders and after making his Hednesford debut in 1933 he was soon off to Aston Villa a year later.

Villa were relegated in 1936 but two years later Jackie played a dramatic role in a decisive match against Manchester United.

He had been taken into hospital with appendicitis but planned to watch the game at Villa Park. However, when Frank Broome dropped out just before the game, Jackie stripped off and in a fairytale display played a part in two goals as Villa won 3-0.

Jackie returned to Hednesford as player/manager after the Second World War and made such a contribution on the pitch that he was snapped up by Walsall in 1946, before ending his playing days in 1958 and becoming

by Dave Shaw

Hednesford manager again three years later. Following a promising beginning at schoolboy level, 14-year old Bob Finch joined The Pitmen in 1923.

He signed professional forms for West Bromwich Albion in 1925, initially earning the princely sum of £3/10 (£3.50) per week.

Bob went on to make 447 appearances at the Hawthorns, winning medals in 1926-27, 32-33, 33-34 and 34-35, before moving to Swansea in 1939.

He then became a policeman and arranged many friendly football matches during the Second World War.

Bob's neighbour, Frank Corbett, filled Bob's position at the Pitmen before joining Bob at The Hawthorns in 1926 to provide the Baggies with an all-Hednesford full-back pairing. Frank had spent only two years at Hednesford and Albion had paid £50 to take him to The Hawthorns, where he would spend the next five years as defensive cover for George Shaw, Bert Trentham – who was best man for Frank's wedding – and Bob.

Frank moved on to Coventry in 1931 before joining Burton Town and then returning to Hednesford in 1933.

John Martin was a young schoolmaster. Persuaded to turn-out for Town, he played only 15 games before in January 1935 he too became a Villa player, but only on the understanding that he could continue to teach the children at West Hill school and train alone at night.

Throughout his 12 years at Villa Park 'Mr Martin' did indeed teach most of us children in the Hednesford area, continuing through the 1940s and 50s. He also found time to manage the club to the Birmingham Combination Championship title in 1951.

At the time, he was considered to be one of the best inside-forwards never to play for England.

Painter gives diners brush off in hot curry challenge

A CURRY lover was all fired up as he took on – and beat – the UK's hottest dish. Craig Millward is one of only a handful of people to have polished off the Dilshad Inferno.

The 32-year-old painter and decorator was given a round of applause by fellow diners as he put the gloss finish on the dish, introduced last year at the Dilshad in Cannock Road, Chads Moor.

The Inferno, made with the naga chilli, has been certified as the UK's hottest curry and is on the house if customers manage to clear their plate. Many have tried, but only a few have managed it.

However, Craig, of Chads Moor, proved he could stand the heat – and has the certificate to prove he was able to stomach it.

Bungee

He said: "I'm used to hot curries anyway and usually have a vindaloo. I was persuaded to try the inferno and I'm glad I did."

Craig was out with his fiancée Melita and her parents on a busy Saturday night, while there were also several other diners in the restaurant. They all applauded as he finished his meal, some 40 minutes after it was dished up.

"I'm always up for a challenge," said Craig, who has done a bungee jump and would also like to skydive.

"I just wanted to finish it to prove a point. People were egging me on to finish it and that was all the encouragement I needed. I would recommend anyone to try it."

Tom strikes Gold

Tom Beard has gained a Duke of Edinburgh Gold award

A HEDNESFORD schoolboy has become one of the youngest people to gain a Duke of Edinburgh Gold award.

Head boy Tom Beard, a Year 13 student at Kingsmead Technology College, completed the award by taking part in a range of activities, including mountain biking. He also spent a week working at the International Scout Camp in Sweden and last September, completed a four day backpacking expedition across the Yorkshire Dales.

Congratulating Tom, a school spokesman said: "This is a fantastic achievement for Tom. The Gold takes at least a year to do and Tom only started it in the sixth form, having completed his Bronze and Silver Awards while in years 10 and 11."

Tom will be invited to St James' Palace in London where a senior member of the Royal Family will present his award. The teenager was also presented with his Queen's Scout Award in April.

Talks as bus route to city facing axe

AN Arriva bus service linking Cannock and Birmingham is to be axed - sparking anger from campaigners. The X31 service is to end on June 2.

Bosses say they are axing the route due to a lack of users. The news comes just weeks after the company announced it was to scrap the X60 service, while the number 60 linking Cannock and Lichfield will be reduced.

Service operators have organised emergency talks with Staffordshire County Council and Centro to look at running a taxpayer-funded replacement service.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson says the end of the service would affect hundreds of users.

He said: "It will be devastating for many local people who use this service regularly. It is an incredibly well used service."

The X31 runs Monday to

by Harry Gottschalk

Saturday, between Cannock Bus Station and Carrs Lane in Birmingham.

Arriva spokesman Keith Myatt said: "Discussions are taking place with Staffordshire County Council and Centro looking at saving part of the service."

"The service may continue in a revised format, but unfortunately it has not generated sufficient patronage."

Free talk about epilepsy

THE public is invited to a free health talk on epilepsy at Cannock Chase Hospital.

Phil Tittensor, clinical nurse specialist in epilepsy, will be talking about epilepsy awareness and the services on offer at the Trust on Monday, May 21.

The event is being held in the Davy Unit at Cannock Hospital, Brunswick Road, from 6-8pm.

Anyone planning to attend, should call 01785 887504 or email membership@midstaffs.nhs.uk to book a place.

Meeting not dampened by weather

Carole's years of service rewarded

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

DESPITE a sudden, badly timed, storm and torrential rain and hail there was still a very good turnout for the last fortnightly meeting.

Dilys welcomed to two new members, Pauline and Liz, and introduced the speaker Anne Wood, a former events organiser at Shugborough for a talk entitled: "Careers, concerts and catastrophes".

Although she started as a secretary she wanted to learn as much as possible about Shugborough and would work weekends as a guide, car park attendant or doing whatever was needed. She eventually applied for, and was given, the position of events manager with responsibility for 100,000 visitors and £250,000 revenue.

She said that however much planning went into staging an event, things could still go wrong beyond one's control, like bomb scares, collapsed marquees or chimney fires.

Anne set up her own company nine years ago, called Ann-E-Vent; she has also worked at Lichfield Garrick Theatre as duty manager, and retired last year. She can be contacted on 01889 500168.

Following refreshments, the raffle was drawn and there were two prizes, won by June and Margaret.

CANNOCK SOROPTIMISTS

President Eileen Cryer presents a 25 year service certificate to Soroptimist Carole Holdcroft

AT the AGM, outgoing President Eileen Cryer paid tribute to the service given by members of the club.

She remembered some of the year's events which helped to raise much needed funds for Pathway, Midlands Air Ambulance and Cannock Friends of St Giles Hospice.

She also acknowledged the work done by members who took part in Cannock Carnival, did can-shakes at superstores, baked cakes for St Giles, helped with bag packing for SNAP, 'clicked' daily online to fund mammograms through the breast cancer site, collected tents and other equipment at Weston Park following V and helped provide Christmas lunch at the Mill Street soup kitchen. She congratulated the club for its work with Purple Teardrop.

Her last official function as president was to present Carole Holdcroft with a certificate marking her 25 years as a Soroptimist.

Stroke Club given cheque

CHASETOWN TOWNSWOMEN

A CHEQUE to the value of £1,500 was presented to the Lichfield Stroke Club by club chairman Vicky Jones.

She presented the cheque to Stroke Club chairman Christine Heaton and secretary Michael Buckle.

The money was raised by guild and craft group members, who very generously gave of their time to organise and attend many fundraising events, including a strawberry tea, a barbecue, craft stalls and selling at car boot sales over the past 12 months.

The meeting then continued with the AGM when the committee as a whole was re-elected. Members are currently busy knitting blankets for the Addis Ababa Fistula Hospital Appeal and are looking forward to trips to The Severn Valley Railway's 40th weekend and to Highclere Castle.

In June members will attend the National AGM at the ICC in Birmingham.

Joined in celebration – pupils of Western Springs Primary School, Rugeley, and Moorhill Primary, Cannock, pictured here together with chairmen of governors and partners from the Chase Co-operative Learning Trust

New venture pulls schools together

CHILDREN, staff and parent volunteers travelled from Western Springs Primary School, Rugeley to Moorhill Primary School, Cannock, recently, to mark and celebrate becoming The Chase Co-operative Learning Trust.

Pupils took part in science, design and technology, art, PE and maths activities, presented in both stimulating and exciting ways.

They also had the opportunity to take time out to meet and greet each other socially and to share lunchtime. Moorhill Year 6 pupils calculated quantities and costs of ice cream treats as part of their maths SATS preparations.

The inaugural meeting of The Chase Co-operative Learning Trust took place at the same time, giving trust members the opportunity to be included.

The trust comprises very strong partners and both headteachers – Shirley Wellings and Sandra Peck – are delighted with trust plans for the future.

The trust partners include South Staffordshire College, which will be providing courses for parents, especially those to help them support their children.

Wolverhampton University will continue to work with both schools to develop mathematical skills.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust will continue to support the schools' environmental projects, while staff from Pye Green Valley Primary will join with both schools to work on curriculum matters including the National Revised Curriculum.

Wednesbury Learning Community Trust schools are also networking with Moorhill and Western Springs, and as this is an established Trust, it brings with it much experience and expertise.

Cannock Chase District Council is most supportive of the trust and works with both schools to develop projects in the localities to benefit children and families, which in turn enables the children to focus on their educational studies.

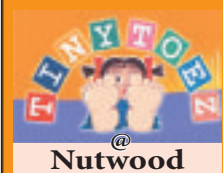

The Co-operative College has extensive experience in helping to found and organise the network of co-operative schools, of which the schools are now members.

The Co-operative Movement will help bring a global dimension to the school and assist in extending their existing national and international links.

Children will all become members of The Co-operative Society and will have the opportunity to contribute to the decision making and planning for their futures.

Bench is installed along heritage trail

EIGHT Hednesford residents have made rustic benches for fellow members of the public to enjoy along a heritage trail at the town's park.

The Friends of Hednesford Park helped support the project which was funded by Staffordshire County Council Adult and Family Learning. The Forest of Mercia delivered the 12-hour training course and the benches have now been installed along the trail.

The benches have already attracted new interest for future training courses and some have asked for bat boxes, insect hotels and bird boxes. To get involved contact The Friends of Hednesford Park on 07896 239717, or via email at friendsofhednesfordpark@hotmail.co.uk

Charity champions

Chris Paget, store manager Rob Hillman, RNLI branch chairman Mike Egginton, branch secretary Alun Thomas and committee member Maggi Egginton and Sainsbury's staff Yvette Ryan and Heather Norman CUSTOMERS are being invited to vote for a Cannock supermarket's charity partner.

Sainsbury's, at Orbital Way, has been raising money for a nominated cause for the past three years and shoppers can choose who they want the next year's beneficiary to be. They can vote in store before May 23. A shortlist of three will be made up before the winning charity is announced in June.

Last year's charity partner was the RNLI and over the 12 months, a sum of £7,000 was raised.

Cannock Store Manager Rob Hillman said: "Our last charity partnership with the RNLI proved a great success. Our customers now have a fantastic opportunity to help us support another local charity which is close to many people's hearts."

MPs back charity in law change bid

MPs are throwing further weight behind a Cannock-based charity's bid to amend legislation affecting disabled teenagers and use of wheelchairs.

A bill in support of the Newlife Foundation for Disabled Children has now had its second reading in Parliament and the charity has welcomed the support.

The charity has a campaign to amend legislation it calls a piece of "nonsensical legislation" affecting disabled teenagers.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley introduced a 10-minute rule motion, supported by Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy, which highlighted the plight of disabled children who are currently denied access to the most appropriate wheelchairs because of existing weight and age restrictions.

Currently any chair weighing more than 150kg is classified as a car, fit for

by Richard Woodall

over-17s only. But MPs argue that advances in technology mean chairs for the most severely disabled had become heavier as a result of better devices to improve mobility.

Mr Burley also wants the law on "Class 3" wheelchairs, the type used by people with the most severe disabilities and holding the most equipment, to be changed.

At the moment it is illegal for people under the age of 14 to use them.

Church memories sought

PARISHIONERS are asked to relive their memories of a Chads Moor church as it marks 120 years. Stories, photographs or any memorabilia from over the years are sought to include in a display as part of the celebrations. Photographs and press cuttings can be copied and returned. Call church warden Sue Searle on 01543 451480 or June Jukes on 01543 571241 before the end of May.

Campaign group told of report on forest future

A GROUP campaigning about parts of Cannock Chase being sold off to private investors have been told a report setting out national Government policy will be published on July 4.

The Independent Panel of Forestry is to determine the future of the country's forests and has been working on a report which will be handed to Environment Secretary Caroline Spelman.

When the Independent Panel on Forestry announced a round of visits around the country, Cannock Chase was not included. Concerned campaigners wanted a chance to explain why the Chase should remain in public hands and not be sold off to private investors. The panel, formed by the Environment Secretary, visited woodland sites in Nottinghamshire, East Anglia, Yorkshire, Devon, the Lake District, and Wyre Forest.

Favourable

The Government performed a U-turn on selling woodland to private investors and the panel's report is due to set out options for the future of the nation's forests.

Mark Davis, who heads Save Cannock Chase and the Facebook group "What future for Cannock Chase forest?" said: "An interim report showed favourable support for the Forestry Commission. It will be interesting to see if anything has altered their opinion."

The Facebook group has highlighted that the Chase receives more than 1.5 million visits each year.

Church coffee morning

A PLANT sale and coffee morning takes place at a Chadsmoor church next weekend. It is being held at St Chads church, in Cannock Road, from 10am to noon on Saturday (May 19).

Girls' West End chance

Meghan Griffiths and Mia-Jade Rowley, from Chase Stage Academy, who auditioned for the West End production of The Sound of Music TWO fledgling stars from Cannock have auditioned for parts in a West End show.

Talented 10-year-olds Mia-Jade Rowley, a Hob Hill Primary School pupil of Rawsley Road and Chase Academy schoolgirl Meghan Griffiths, of New Penkridge Road, both reached the final 100 in auditions to find young actors for a summer production of The Sound of Music. They both attend Chase Stage Academy.

Takings on offer in talent show at pub

A PUB near Rugeley is on the hunt for talent. The Swan with Two Necks at Longdon is launching a weekly open mic night and is looking for singers and instrumentalists to come forward. Magicians and comedians are also welcome.

The talent night will be held at the pub every Thursday from 8pm.

Neil Morten, who took over the 250-year-old pub last year, said: "We'll provide the microphones, amplifier and PA. We just need the performers."

"The audience will put a few coins in a hat, and those who get up to perform go into a draw for the takings."

Cheers to reopening

Pub manager Tracey Hilton at the Crystal Fountain in Cannock with Clive Clinton, a director of Fireside Inns

A CANNOCK pub in Cannock has reopened following a £60,000 transformation. The Crystal Fountain in St John's Road was sold six weeks ago after being closed for a year.

The Grade II listed venue, which dates from 1937, was shut last May. It has been bought at auction by Fireside, a company run by Clive Clinton and Angus McMeeking, who are also behind The Courthouse in Dudley, The Black Country Arms in Walsall and a new enterprise in Queen Street, Wolverhampton.

Refurbishment plans for the pub, had to be approved by English Heritage which values it as a good example of a 1930s roadside pub.

Mr Clinton said he wanted to return the pub to its former glory, adding: "This is a now a community pub selling real ales."

Workforce at van hire firm increased

A VAN hire and sales group with a base in Cannock has increased its workforce by a quarter after a re-structuring programme, bosses have announced.

The Northgate group specialises in the sale of premium used and commercial vans and opened its 5.75 acre site in Walkmill Lane, Bridgton, in October.

by John Corser

Bosses say the increase in the sales force came by centralising the regional sales teams for Fleet Technique, Vehicle Monitoring and Northgate Vehicle Sales into one operation.

There are now four regional operational areas. Cannock is one of three main hubs within the west region.

Sites

There are no extra jobs being created in Cannock as a result of the changes to the sales operation.

Northgate Vehicle Hire now has sites across 62 locations in the UK, with its head office in Darlington.

Marketing manager Jonathan Pearce, said: "The centralisation of administration and finance tasks that has been taking place throughout the last year and has been successful to date."

He added: "The increase in our sales force reflects that and, despite difficult trading conditions, we're confident the changes that have been made will result in positivity moving forwards into the new financial year."

Northgate, which has been going for more than 30 years and employs 2,000 people, operates more than 62,000 rental vehicles and fleet manages 15,000.

Group's musical pick 'n' mix

A MUSICAL Pick 'n' Mix is being performed by Chadsmoor Choral Society next week. The show takes place Chadsmoor Methodist Church, in Cannock Road, from Wednesday to Friday, May 16 to 18. Tickets are £5, from 07866 631436 or on the door.

Curry fans name Ali the greatest

Midlands Curry Enthusiasts' Club Chef of the Year Mohamed Ali with his certificate at the Elaichi, Chadsmoor

A CHEF called Mohamed Ali proved he packed a punch with a group of curry lovers. He was named Chef of the Year by the Midlands Curry Enthusiasts Club.

The accolade comes after his restaurant, the Elaichi, in Cannock Road, Chadsmoor, was awarded the Curry Cup by the Midlands Balti Association last year.

Comedian David St John provided the entertainment as the Chef of the Year trophy was presented. Dignitaries were also present as the award was handed over by Councillors Bob and Diane Todd. The MCEC is affiliated to the Midlands Balti Association. Members visit restaurants to evaluate them on general criteria.

Owner Akthar Miah said: "We are very happy – but not surprised – that our chef's food was declared the best."

"We appreciate the efforts of all our staff and our customers who have helped us to get to where we are."

Pots of cash for charity

SNOOKER players can raise vital funds for charity by signing up to an annual competition.

A Rugeley club is launching the contest to raise money to help support disabled and terminally ill children.

Pot Black Snooker Club, in Brewery Street, is holding the opening night of its inaugural Newlife Open Snooker Championship on Saturday (May 12).

The event had originally been set to run on May 5, but was delayed to allow more people to enter. Organiser Darren Matthews said: "We are calling out to snooker players across the county – and beyond – to sign up for the knockout competition."

"We have 10 tables here and we are prepared to play until the early hours to accommodate all-comers."

Trophy

He added: "Several of our members have signed up already, but we want to encourage as many visiting players as possible to come along."

"The finals will be held on May 26 and the winner will receive a trophy and have the opportunity to play three frames against former Open Champion Nigel Bond, who will be here on the night."

Darren hopes to raise several hundreds of pounds for the Cannock-based Newlife Foundation for Disabled Children.

Anyone interested in entering the Newlife Open Snooker Championship – or finding out more about the club's other events – can contact Darren on 07970 798904.

Tycoon's wife tops rich list

THE Staffordshire-born wife of a Swiss pharmaceutical tycoon is the West Midlands' richest person after increasing her wealth by £530 million last year.

The latest edition of the Sunday Times Rich List showed Kirsty Bertarelli, originally from Stone and now also Britain's richest woman, saw her worth alongside husband Ernesto boosted to £7.4bn, putting her top of the region's league and sixth in the UK.

The soaring success of Staffordshire's JCB almost doubled the fortune of owner Sir Anthony Bamford and his family, now 20th nationally and second in the West Midlands, after £1.5bn was added to the family's worth.

Mobile phone magnate John Caudwell, of Eccleshall, was third in the West Midlands and 42nd overall with £1.5bn.

Wolves owner Steve Morgan was 216th nationally with a fortune of £410m, up £10m, partly thanks to the revived fortunes of his Redrow building business.

The owner of the West Bromwich 2 Sisters Food has seen a £70m rise. Ranjit Singh Boparan and his wife Baljinder are at 354 and worth £180m.

When fast food really was FOOD, inglorious food! We tend to think of fast food as an American concept from the 1950s.

But there has long been a need to buy food that is ready, and quick to eat.

Britain might not have given the world fine dining but we were definitely responsible for the sandwich!

If we look at Wolverhampton from 1800 onwards we can see that, far from a modern phenomenon, fast food has been a high street commodity from a surprisingly early date.

Two hundred years ago Wolverhampton was a major coaching centre. In the days before railways, and before much of the industrialisation that characterised the area, travellers' needs shaped the town.

A stone's throw from the Roman London to Holyhead Road, Wolverhampton, was an important stop en route to every part of the kingdom. Dudley Street was the centre of the coaching trade, boasting no fewer than a dozen public houses.

Important

There were other important coaching inns in the city at High Green (Queen Square), Cock Street (Victoria Street) and North Street. In the 1820s, the Lion in North Street dealt with 20-30 coaches per day. Twenty years before, a young Princess Victoria had made her first journey to Wolverhampton, when her coach stopped briefly at the Lion on its way to Holyhead.

While some coaches just changed horses or drivers, hundreds of travellers needed to eat – and if ever food had to be fast, it was during the days of the stage coach.

Passengers stopped at each stage for only half an hour, and the food on offer usually included beef steaks, mutton chops, veal

The Star and Garter was one of Wolverhampton's oldest coaching inns

The Birmingham Wonder Stage Coach fed the beginnings of fast food. Images courtesy of Wolverhampton Archives & Local Studies

We all presume the takeaway is a modern invention, but it was on our streets more than 200 years ago. SAM BADGER, who won the Wolverhampton History Symposium with her study into fast food, explains cutlets or ham and eggs (hence the name "chop houses" often applied to inns).

Landlords were often suspected of delaying their service so paying guests had no time to eat anything. The days of the stage coach were numbered with the advent of the railways.

Restaurants were established at both the high and low level stations, and the centre of Wolverhampton ceased to serve as such a service station.

The railways brought other benefits. Sea fish, once an expensive rarity in the Midlands, became widely available. In early times, fish had been transported in barrels of sea water but often turned putrid.

Most people ate only freshwater fish, while the poor ate vast quantities of red herrings or kippers. The railways meant fish arrived fresh in the towns and cities. However, in a time before refrigeration, it would not remain so for long. A visitor to Wolverhampton in the 1840s noted that fishmongers on the town's market could be smelled long before they were seen.

So the fish and chip trade that developed in the 1860s was partly in response to the need to dispose of stock that was "on the turn". Frying arrested the process of decay making old fish palatable. It could be sold at a profit to the workers in the rapidly expanding cities and towns.

Wolverhampton's population increased eight-fold between 1800 and 1900, and enterprising sorts seized the opportunity to provide them with ready-made foods. Street vendors and established traders also took advantage of the crowds that came to see football and horse racing. Fish and chip shops flourished in the industrial areas and poorer residential streets. Fish was fried in brew houses and kitchens and sold on.

Confectioners produced sweet and savoury pies, and street vendors and market traders sold cooked foods in the open air in horrific conditions that were barely regulated until the middle of the 20th century.

In 1900, a penny lick ice cream was served in a glass by street vendors. The customer licked the glass clean and returned it to the vendor, who promptly refilled it and offered it to another customer!

This was eventually outlawed (not least because it spread tuberculosis) and edible cones were used.

Opened

During the 20th century, opportunities to eat out became more diverse. Music halls and cinemas served food, while stores like Beatties developed their own restaurants and cafes after the First World War. Coffee bars and milk bars served hot drinks and snacks, and workers' canteens sprang up at some of the big industrial firms.

Between the wars, many outlets opened seven days a week, like the Lyons tea shop on Queen Square, and until quite late at night, such as Beatties, which was open until 10pm.

After the pubs finished serving, the fish and chip shop was king, until the advent of more exotic cuisine after the Second World War, much of which stemmed from our imperial heritage. First Chinese and then Indian restaurants appeared.

They soon drew an enthusiastic clientele – not least because many of these new restaurants had licences allowing the customer to carry on drinking – and have remained part of our fast food culture today.

Start-up firms on the rise

MORE than 8,000 new companies have been registered in the Black Country and southern Staffordshire in the past year.

Business leaders welcomed the record numbers saying they show confidence by entrepreneurs and investors in the region.

In total, 8,158 new companies were registered last year in the Black Country, Wyre Forest, Cannock Chase and Stafford, compared to 7,339 in 2010 – an 11 per cent increase like-for-like.

The trend continued this year with figures compiled by business data company Dupton showing 785 companies registering in the area in March.

There were 58 start-up businesses registered in Dudley alone during.

Engineering, IT and retail companies are among the firms established.

Dupton managing director, Peter Valaitis, said: "There are too many stories of decline right now, and it is places like the West Midlands that will drive this country towards a new era of economic success."

"We applaud the entrepreneurial spirit of those who are motivated to take control of their future."

Football aces to bring in Euro crowds at sports bar

THREE footballing aces are lined up to entertain fans during Euro 2012 at a Cannock bar.

John Aldridge, Wilf McGuinness and Duncan McKenzie have all been booked to appear at Bar Sport and its Premier Suite for England's three Group D matches.

The High Green venue will accommodate more than 1,000 England fans in three rooms.

Former Liverpool and Republic of Ireland striker John Aldridge will be appearing in The Premier Suite for England's first group game against France on June 11. Aldridge, who scored 50 goals for Liverpool in 83 appearances, is the sixth top scorer in the history of English football in a career that included Newport County, Oxford and Tranmere Rovers.

Wilf McGuinness will appear at the venue on June 15 as England take on Sweden. The former Manchester United player was capped twice by England but was forced to retire at the age of 22 due to a broken leg. He later went on to manage the Red Devils.

Televised

Duncan McKenzie will be the special guest at England's final group game against Ukraine on June 19. McKenzie was a prolific striker at Nottingham Forest, Leeds and Everton. If England progress to the quarter finals then more legends of the football world will be booked to appear at the venue.

Tickets for the legends' dates at the Premier Suite start at £35 and include a four-course meal with wine, welcome drink on arrival and car park pass. The games will be televised on three giant screens with surround sound and will be hosted by former Wolves winger Steve Kindon.

Tables in the upstairs VIP room costs £19.95 each, to include four free bottles for each person and a buffet platter. Tables downstairs cost £12.50 per person which includes two free bottles and a buffet platter.

Although the legends will be speaking in The Premier Suite during the match they will be visiting the other rooms and chatting to fans. There are more than 60 screens throughout the venue so everyone will be guaranteed to see every bit of the action.

Scott Murray, owner of Bar Sport and The Premier Suite, said: "We are one of the biggest venues in the country to televise Euro 2012."

"The atmosphere is set to be electric. We have booked three legends of the English game to come along for the three group games and entertain fans."

"They will be speaking in the Premier Suite but will also be visiting other areas of the venue to chat to fans. It promises to be a fantastic summer of football."

To book tables in any one of the three rooms ring Bar Sport and The Premier Suite on 01543 572092.

A jubilee party with cakes fit for a queen

THE CURRENT vogue for baking will no doubt lead to a right royal collection of cakes and cookies adorning tables during the street parties celebrating the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, during the first weekend in June.

Kitchenware specialists Lakeland have brought out an exclusive Street Party Collection for patriotic afternoon tea parties to mark the monarch's 60 year reign.

These include a two-tier cake stand, easy to slot together and wipe clean (£6.99) with matching food flags (£2.99 for 20), paper napkins (£3.49 for 20).

Packs of 60 two-inch diameter cake cases (£3.49) come in three designs and are greaseproof. The packs of 30 cake cases (£2.49) have a Union Flag inspired design.

The Crown Cookie Cutters (£2.99) and Flag Cookie Cutter (£1.29) add a regal touch to tea.

There are also jam jar topper and tag kits (£5.99).

Lakeland's Vintage Jubilee Textile Collection will make sure cook and kitchen look the part with two crown-embazoned tea towels (£9.99), double oven glove (£11.99) and apron (£14.99) with front pocket and an adjustable neck strap. You will need something to make those cakes in. Dainty miniature Victorian sponges are a doddle with the exclusive 12 cup loose-based mini sandwich pan (£19.99). Or bake cakes with a hidden filling using the Silverwood Victoria Surprise Cake Set Duo (£19.99). Dan's distinctive voice heard on debut album

WOLVERHAMPTON singer and songwriter Dan Whitehouse has collected enough of his own material, ably abetted by Michael and Steve Clarke, to release his first, and eponymously titled, full album which is out on May 23.

Dan has served his time on the local music scene and played many major festivals, and his album is currently getting airplay on Radio 6.

On the album you can hear Dan flexing his vocal range with tracks which certainly brings to mind artists such as Bob Dylan, David Bowie, Leonard Cohen, Donovan and Peter Gabriel.

Whether these influences are conscious or otherwise remains to be seen, but in between these is the breathy and distinctive voice of Dan who is able to convey real emotion in his singing.

Evocative

There are nice little evocative twists among the tracks such as Three Bodies which could easily be the sound of a busker on the streets of Paris.

Perhaps the tracks which gives you Dan at his stripped down best is Hold on to What We Have in which the music has more than a tinge of Pink Floyd to it.

The album comes with ambitious renderings such as the thumping rhythm of Fire of Lust and In My Stupid Face. Dan uses sound effects very well which is reminiscent of Roxy Music's early experiments.

Wolverhampton singer-songwriter Dan Whitehouse releases his self-titled debut album on May 23

All in all this is a very thoughtful and reflective first offering which Dan should be proud of and is well worth a listen.

Danny Farragher

Other new releases: SHEFFIELD'S mellow voiced Richard Hawley, formerly of Pulp, turns the amps up to 11 on his new album Standing at the Sky's Edge.

There are some crooned ballads about the lost and lonely but as important on this album is the fiery fretwork as he unleashes squalls of psychedelic drone rock. This could be the first Hawley album to unite Billy Fury and Muse fans in admiration.

There is a thin line between quirky and irritating and I am afraid Marina and the Diamonds overstep it on Electra Heart with songs that would have been rejected by Shakespeare's Sister a couple of decades ago.

Her vocal gymnastics are just too mannered and get in the way of the songs, and when she tones it down a little she sounds like a nil point Eurovision entry.

Former Blur frontman Damon Albarn's latest wild tangent is Dr Dee, part pastoral symphony and part folk song cycle about the life of Elizabethan mystic John Dee. More Radio 3 than 1, 2 or 6.

Sweet Billy Pilgrim continue to defy genres with their Crown and Treaty album. If you imagine a folksy version of Elbow, then you're on the right track.

Fans of such jazz-inflected soul singers of the 70s as Bill Withers and Labi Siffre should check out young Londoner Michael Kiwanuka. His debut Home Again isn't highly original but those who like classic soul will embrace it.

Norah Jones' breathy vocal charm gains more gravitas and variety on Little Broken Hearts and ace producer Danger Mouse has given the whole affair an elegant sheen.

Brooklyn's Santi White, AKA Santigold, on her second album Master of My Make-Believe delivers a potent and inventive blend of rock, reggae, dubstep, drum 'n' bass with a keen pop sense. Disparate Youth is the stand out track and Karen O guests on Go!

Yorkshire soprano Lesley Garrett sings traditional British favourites, from The Bold Grenadier to On Ilkley Moor Baht'at, on A North Country Lass.

But the surging orchestral arrangements are so self-consciously epic that they sometimes overcome even her powerful vocals.

Birthday fit for a queen

Ada Pearce celebrates her 100th birthday with her daughter Jean Wood and other family members, at the Waters Edge Care Home in Great Wyrley

A PENSIONER with a passion for dancing celebrated a 100th birthday fit for a queen – complete with her very own throne.

Ada Pearce, of Waters Edge Care Home, Great Wyrley, was surrounded by family and friends as she celebrated the milestone. Staff at Waters Edge, in Stafford Road, spent the days beforehand making Ada a special birthday throne to sit on and she wore a tiara to celebrate. The home was also decorated with banners and balloons.

Ada, who has lived at the home since October last year, formerly ran a popular fish and chip shop on Walsall Road, Great Wyrley.

She also has a passion for dancing, once winning first prize at a Queens Hall competition. Ada has one daughter, Jean, and one grandson, Kevin.

Waters Edge activities co-ordinator Jenny Cowley said: "We're wanted to make Ada's birthday one fit for a queen."

Armour wrangle 'may take years'

THE legal battle over ownership of two 400-year-old suits could take three years to resolve.

The armour, which dates back to the 17th century, was meant to raise £40,000 at auction, with the money going towards putting on the Lichfield Bower next month.

The suits of armour were among four which had been on display in Lichfield Heritage Centre since 1982.

They were withdrawn from sale after Lichfield District Council claimed it was the rightful owner. Organisers of the historic Bower have now had to scale back the June 4 fete.

Bower committee chairman Michael Mullarkey said: "The disagreement is still being looked into and is not likely to be resolved for another two or three years."

"We have documentation saying the suits of armour are ours and the council has documentation claiming they own it. Somewhere there is a piece of paper saying one way or the other."

Last year, due to torrential rain, the Bower made an £18,000 loss. The council also halved its grant this year to £2,500.

However, the committee has saved £10,000 on the hire of a military band by inviting the RAF band from Cosford to lead the procession. They will be joined by the RAF Wing Band of the Staffordshire and West Mercia regiments and the Nottingham Pipe Police Band.

Mr Mullarkey said: "It's shaping up to be a wonderful day."

A grit and saintly mix

Scott Matthews, Dan Whitehouse, Newhampton Arts Centre, Wolverhampton

THE Newhampton Arts Centre is one of Wolverhampton's best kept secrets but on Friday people flocked to it to see two of Wolverhampton's talented musicians Scott Matthews and Dan Whitehouse.

Scott has a depth, grit and yet creaminess to his voice as he stands almost saint-like, his voice starting off close to just a murmur before building up to a wall of sound.

There is something almost spiritual to his voice at times, it has some of the qualities of Gregorian chant but then can jump from this into Obsession Never Sleeps, an electric sound evoking thoughts of a 1960s dance club.

His wonderful track, Up On the Hill, was the kind of music that could easily feature in a Quentin Tarantino film.

Scott's fellow Wulfrunian, Dan Whitehouse, has matured to become a consummate showman, taking the rise out of himself between songs and getting the audience to warm to him.

Dan is an incredibly talented musician and songwriter.

He is willing to be innovative and can move from the melodic ballad to a harder edged sound with such ease.

His debut album will be available from May 23.

Mystery as the newlyweds cruise down river of death

THE Agatha Christie Theatre Company presents a stylish new production of the queen of crime's classic thriller Murder On The Nile, at Wolverhampton Grand from Monday, May 21.

Former Dynasty star Kate O'Mara leads a star-studded

Has Paul got views for you

Paul Merton, Wolverhampton Grand JUST what goes on in Paul Merton's head?

Quite a lot judging by his improvisation skills and panel show performances. And the audience here got a glimpse of the comic's mind.

In a return to his stand-up days, Merton - with the help of Richard Vranich, Lee Simpson and wife Suki Webster - tackled the subject of mental health in semi-autobiographical style, harking back to his early days and his time spent in the Maudsley psychiatric hospital.

In a fully rehearsed and scripted show there were many gags and clever stage-work as he dealt with the subject - a difficult one to tackle - in a self-deprecating way. The one-liners got the biggest laughs.

cast as an awful English snob on an Egyptian cruise. The other actors include Denis Lill as clerical sleuth Canon Pennefather, who was transformed into Belgian detective Hercule Poirot for the movie version. Also among the Nile steamer's passengers are Coronation Street's Chloe Newsome, Susie Amy from Footballer's Wives, Ben Nealon of Soldier Soldier and former 1960s pop idol Mark Wynter.

Honeymoon

A honeymoon under the scorching Egyptian sun turns sour as the bridegroom's old flame pursues the newly-weds. Tragedy strikes and holidaying Canon Pennefather is drawn into a web of intrigue, deceit and murder.

Murder On The Nile follows a number of hugely popular plays based on Agatha Christie stories presented at the Lichfield Street venue. This arrival promises plenty of twists during its run until May 26.

In a scene from Agatha Christie's Murder On The Nile are, from left, Ben Nealon, Susie Amy and Denis Lill

Gemma set to shine with Glee

IRISH singer/songwriter Gemma Hayes is about to kick off her Let It Break - The Acoustic Tour which starts on May 15 in Reading and brings her to the Glee Club in Birmingham on Sunday, May 27.

Jazz, bass and ballet

Three Short Works, Birmingham Royal Ballet, Crescent Theatre, Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM Royal Ballet's contribution to its home city's international dance festival was a triple bill that showed the breadth of ballet, danced to music from clattering drum 'n' bass to cool jazz via romantic piano pieces.

BRB dancer and Warwickshire native Kit Holder expanded his dazzling Printer Jam duet, first seen last year, into a 20-minute ballet 9-5 charting a bad day at the office. Holder's choreography was dynamic and witty. The business suited male and female dancers twirled and sped along on office chairs in a power game over the office new boy and girl. Samara Downs was exceptional as the aggressive harpie-like female boss.

Inventive

In contrast, another new commission Lyric Pieces is a romantic work drawing on Nordic folklore, danced to piano pieces by Edvard Grieg (pianist Jonathan Higgins was excellent). American choreographer Jessica Lang's ballet is also highly inventive with the dancers creating their own scenery whilst performing by using rolls of black corrugated paper. Perfect timing saw environments morph and form around the dancers, which included an elegant dance by Yvette Knight and a delightful one by Maureya Lebowitz.

The company's director David Bintley left his mark on the evening with a revival of Take Five, his short jazz ballet to the music of the Dave Brubeck Quartet. The dancers expressed the cool finger-snapping sounds in movement inspired by 1950s and 60s dance (think West Side Story or Young Generation), enhanced by costumes from the era. It was Bintley at his audience-pleasing best and the combination of BRB principals Elisha Wills and Robert Parker in the Two Step was captivating.

Dance fans will get another opportunity to see Lyric Pieces and Take Five, presented with Hans van Manen's Grosse Fuge, at Birmingham Hippodrome from September 26 to 29.

Tale with twist end

There Was An Old Woman Who Swallowed A Fly, Wolverhampton Grand THERE was an old lady who swallowed a fly... she died of course.

We all know the ending, but this stage production steered clear of that in a show that entertained children of all ages.

Imaginary use of puppets from the two male players showed the old lady eating all the different animals, like a cat, a spider and a horse.

The story's traditional ending was given a twist as the audience was asked to help the professor fix a time machine so they could discover how it all really concluded.

Fantasy quests for Xbox 360

FABLE and Skyrim fans can get a fantasy fix with the new Enhanced Edition of The Witcher 2: Assassins of Kings (18).

It looks sensational and thematically is a blend of Fable and Assassin's Creed though the playing experience isn't as smooth as those blockbusters.

A fun option for Fable fans is Fable Heroes (7) on Xbox Live. It's a platform coin-collecting game in which Fable characters and its Albion settings are given a cute makeover.

Community Games have Olympic spirit

COUNCILLORS in Cannock are to get the whole district in to the Olympic spirit in the form of the Chase Community Games.

Cannock Chase Council has joined forces with Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust to develop the games and a number of events will be taking place including Walk 2 Win, Party in the Park and the Paralympic Torch celebration. Further information about the events is available by downloading a copy of the Chase Community Games events calendar, which can only be found online.

Children across the district have already started designing their own Olympics-inspired torch which will be showcased at the finale event - Party in the Park on August 19.

To download a free copy of the calendar visit www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/chasegames or call Kate McBey on 01543 464270.

Pupils coining it in Georgia Rich, aged 11, collects coins at Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School

MORE than 180 youngsters at Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School helped to pass over £600 to a charity. The Year 7 pupils at the Hall Lane school have been saving one and two pence pieces since September.

They pooled it all together and handed the cash over to St Giles Hospice in Lichfield. The operation saw 185 children take part.

June Williams, student support manager for Year 7, said the giving of cash was personal for her because her husband Philip, aged 65, was diagnosed with cancer 18 months ago.

When she suggested the idea of fundraising to the pupils, they all supported it. "When somebody is diagnosed with cancer you are shocked to the core," she said. "The nurses came out and showed support.

"The children really enjoyed the fundraising. They even had little competitions between the different form groups."

Planners debate phone mast bid

COUNCILLORS were this week deciding on plans for a 69ft mobile phone mast in Hednesford. The bid was being earmarked for approval despite objections.

Vodafone and Telefonica UK Limited, which provide coverage for O2, want to erect the mast within the grounds of ATP Electronics on an existing industrial estate in Cannock Wood Street.

The applicants claim this would reduce the visual impact, but Andy Webb, national production manager for EH Smith, located next to the earmarked site, has put forward objections.

Trading

In a letter to Cannock Chase Council's planning chiefs, he said: "This structure would be too close to our trading premises, also situated on Cannock Wood Street, in fact on the opposite side of the estate roadway.

by Harry Gottschalk

"We have ourselves, in the past, been approached on this site and others that we own for permission to erect a mast and have always refused."

Officers were recommending approval and Cannock Chase Council's planning committee was set to make a decision on the mast plan yesterday (Wednesday).

Stock up blood supplies

VOLUNTEERS are being urged to help stock up supplies by giving blood in Cannock next week. NHS Blood and Transplant will be at the Civic Centre, in Beecroft Road, on Monday, May 14, and a plea has gone out for donors. Sessions take place from 1.30pm to 3.30pm and from 4.30 to 7.30pm. BOOKS

The Saddlers fan who made a star of Britney

The Future Is In The History - Steve Jenkins
(Anchor, paperback, £25)

A PASSION for soul and pop music took Steve Jenkins from Walsall to California and the top of the music business.

He helped create hits for acts ranging from Kylie Minogue to The Stone Roses, helped get Britney Spears a record deal and counts soul singer Billy Ocean and producer Peter Waterman among his closest friends. He has had a hand in an incredible 260 platinum, gold or silver discs.

And it all began at a coffee bar in Walsall town centre in the 1960s when he became bewitched by the sound of Tamla Motown.

His school days at Joseph Leckie were a disaster, partly due to home problems caused by his parents' ill health, and he wasn't satisfied selling cars in Birmingham. So he became a DJ on the Midlands soul scene, then got a job as a record plugger promoting new releases, and his rise to the very top of the business at Jive Records was well under way by the 1980s.

His autobiography is full to the brim with anecdotes about famous performers but a local audience will also enjoy the nostalgia of his memories of Walsall in the swinging 1960s and his lifelong devotion to Walsall Football Club.

The Filter Bubble - Eli Pariser (Penguin, paperback, £9.99)

Have you noticed how in recent years search engines such as Google and portals like Facebook seem to think they know you. That they make assumptions on your tastes and interests.

This is due to the ongoing personalisation of the internet experience, a new phenomena that worries online campaigner Eli Pariser.

Websites use cookies and algorithms to track online habits so they can sell adverts targeted at those likely to buy the product.

Information is currency on the net and these faceless cyber monoliths are getting a lot of information about you. Meanwhile, they are now filtering what information reaches you, Pariser's so-called Filter Bubble.

If you like Lady Gaga, it's great to get the latest news on her. But what if your internet habits suggest you have a certain political viewpoint and then the only news and comment you receive reflects that political stance?

The filter takes away the opportunity to be challenged, surprised, to discover something new. As Pariser puts it: "indoctrinating us with our own ideas." His book will help you look at the internet in a new light.

Story Of A Secret State - Jan Karski
(Penguin, paperback, £9.99)

First published during the Second World War, this book reveals that the Allies were informed at the highest level about Hitler's industrialised mass murder of Europe's Jews before the liberation of the camps. But this eyewitness account was dismissed.

Patriotic Pole Karski was almost ridiculously brave. He survived imprisonment by the Russians and the Germans. He became a courier in the Polish Underground travelling between Nazi and Soviet zones, across Europe to France and back to occupied Poland, even to the heart of Nazi Germany.

He was captured, tortured and more than once escaped the Gestapo. In his most audacious mission he smuggled himself inside a concentration camp dressed as a guard and witnessed the horrors.

Some of his views may seem old fashioned now but his account of his work in the resistance is astonishing. Required reading for anyone interested in the Second World War.

Deep down in the hall of the Mountain King

What is the appeal descending underground to crawl through mud in the dark and damp? REBECCA CARR dons her lamp and hard hat to find out

WHY would anyone want to go caving? Not even Glastonbury could prepare me for how muddy I would get.

You spend hours squeezing through tight spaces, climbing up slippery uneven surfaces and crawling through icy water. It's cold, dark and damp.

On a bright sunny morning in South Wales, I took the plunge into darkness with Dudley Caving Club and crawled my way into Ogof Craig A Ffynnon to find out.

After a short scramble, the cave opened up into a small cavern full of "straw" stalactites suspended from the ceiling.

This was my first insight into the spectacular world underground. By the time we reached the grandest chamber, aptly named The Hall of the Mountain King, I had forgotten the claustrophobic crawls we had achieved to get there.

It looked like a film set, more Lord of the Rings than the 2005 caving-based horror film The Descent.

The five-metre stalactites and matching stalagmites were enough to understand why people are spending their weekends down in caves rather than in their gardens.

Chairman of Dudley Caving Club, Keith Edwards, said: "I don't know why I like caving. It still amazes me when we crawl through all the grotty stuff and it opens up into somewhere like the Hall of the Mountain King."

I was relieved to have the help of fellow novice caver, Chloe Burney, a vet working in Sedgley. Her reason for joining Dudley Caving Club was that she wanted to do something that scared her after feeling unimpressed by a tandem skydive.

Chloe said: "I'm not the most natural caver but I think my enthusiasm counts. 'My friends don't understand why I would choose to go caving.'"

One caver, Jess Harding, said she knew one friend who started caving after watching The Descent.

Managed

It has created a bad reputation for the hobby and many people warned me to avoid seeing it before my underground adventure. To put people's minds at rest, there's nothing down there, except for a small bat.

With a little help and an extra ladder pitched for the beginners, I managed all of the tunnels and climbs.

The boulder choke - a corkscrew tunnel created by boulders - proved challenging with a scary head-first decent on the way back out.

Mark Burkey was thrilled that his new diet allowed him to make the final squeeze before we turned back and headed into the sunshine.

The smell of fresh air once we reached the surface was a welcome relief after four hours down in the caves.

It could have been an ordeal, but the friendly team of cavers helping me along the way made the whole experience rewarding and at times, even fun.

The bruises, aches and pains just act as proof that I survived.

Caving is a hobby that you would either love or hate but it is definitely worth having a go to find out.

This time, Vera and DS Joe Ashworth are called to an army barracks, where they team up with Military Policewoman Shep. The body of commanding officer Devaney, known as Dev for short, has been found, and although it initially appears he's committed suicide, a closer inspection of the scene reveals he was murdered – but who wanted him dead? Vera decides Dev's close friends and loyal comrades Vince and Budgie may hold the key, although a link to Ollie, a soldier killed in Afghanistan, could also prove valuable as the net closes in on a murderer who may have been responsible for more than one death. Homebuyers can take a first view of apartment

A street scene at Barratt's development Bracken Gardens, located in Priory Avenue, Rugeley

BARRATT West Midlands is inviting homebuyers in Rugeley to its Bracken Gardens development for a first look at the development's new view apartment.

The two-bedroom showhome is in the Bromwich style and offers buyers an excellent chance to see how their apartment could take shape.

"We're thoroughly looking forward to welcoming homebuyers to Bracken Gardens" said Lisa Preston, sales manager for Barratt West Midlands. "This development is conveniently located close to the historic market town of Rugeley, providing excellent amenities and leisure facilities nearby."

"We've chosen the two-bedroom Bromwich as view apartment because it showcases all of the fantastic features our apartments have."

The Bromwich features an open-plan living/kitchen/dining area. The kitchen is fitted with stylish, contemporary units, and the entrance hall has a useful storage area. There are two bedrooms as well as a colour-coordinated bathroom."

Bracken Gardens, located on Priory Avenue, offers a range of one and two-bedroom apartments priced from £79,950 and two, three and four-bedroom houses from £133,950. For more, call the sales centre on 01543 491 171 open Thursday to Monday from 10am to 5pm.

Alternatively, call the sales hotline on 0844 811 9933 open seven days a week from 8am to 9pm or log on to www.barratthomes.co.uk/bracken-gardens

A speedy move is on the cards with new houses

Examples of the Redrow homes at Oakwood Grange, Great Wyrley

BUY a brand new Redrow home in Great Wyrley and you could save time and money.

Some of the homes at Oakwood Grange in Walsall Road are now complete, offering buyers the chance to enjoy a speedy move to a brand new home that's easy to manage and efficient to run.

With four-bedroom detached homes available from £199,995, they compare favourably with other properties in the area.

Pauline Turnbull, sales director for Redrow Homes (Midlands), explains: "Purchasers will be able to decide how their new home looks as there's the option to choose features including the kitchen cabinets and work surfaces and the bathroom tiles."

"Plus, there's no need to worry about juggling work, childcare and supervising tradesmen, which you'd have to do if renovating an older property, as our skilled team of craftsmen will ensure your brand new home is finished to our highest standard."

The homes at Oakwood Grange enjoy convivial open plan layouts that maximise the potential of the space available and are great for those with children, as families can spend real quality time together cooking, dining or simply relaxing.

Space

Kitchens are at the heart of the homes and come with integrated appliances such as oven, hob and fridge freezer – even the microwave is included as standard; while soft closing doors on the cabinets and drawers mean little fingers won't get trapped.

And, thanks to the handy en-suite to master bedroom the morning rush for the family bathroom should be alleviated. Those with a home of their own to sell could find they're able to move sooner than they anticipated thanks to part exchange.

With Redrow effectively acting as a cash buyer for the customer's home, there's no need to worry about getting caught in a complicated chain and no agent's fees to pay, making part exchange the smart way to climb the property ladder.

Located in Walsall Road, close to Cannock town centre, Oakwood Grange enjoys easy access to the M6, A5 and A34 and is well placed for commuting to Walsall and Wolverhampton.

To find out how Redrow could help you buy your dream home, visit Oakwood Grange, where the sales office and show homes are open daily from 10am to 5.30pm.

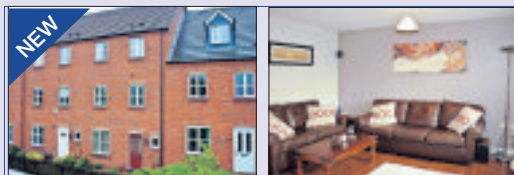

For more information, call 01922 278504 or see www.redrow.co.uk/oakwood

Your essential guide compiled by Motoring Editor Sharon Walters New Peugeot hybrid looks like a safe bet

"It's going to be a thoroughbred experience", was the intro at the start of a launch drive of the new Peugeot 508 RXH. Intriguing... then it hit me, we had to be doing something involving horses. And indeed we did.

The newcomer to the Peugeot stable, the 508 is already available in saloon and SW (estate) variants, and now, with the launch of this 508 RXH, it's available as a four-wheel drive, diesel-electric hybrid with taller suspension and a wider track. There is also a mode where you can run the car purely on electric, and hence with zero emissions, as we did through two stables of valuable thoroughbred racehorses without causing them to twitch a nostril.

It is powered by a 163bhp, 2.0-litre diesel engine and a 37bhp electric motor. On the road the Peugeot 508 Hybrid4 performs very well and is comfortable without being too staid. It will sprint from 0-62mph in 9.5 seconds and it has a top speed of 130mph.

We also tested out its sure-footedness by driving up alongside the gallops as the horses were being exercised. It had been pouring with rain, there was a long, gradual but steep climb on deeply rutted grass, but the car positively cantered up.

This all means that the 508 RXH has a tax-related CO2 rating of 107g/km. The low CO2 output means zero road tax for the first year and then £20 per year thereafter.

Looks-wise, the 508 is curvy and smooth and inside you get comfort and a quality finish. It is indeed a thoroughbred experience. The range starts at £33,695.

Plenty of space for family in Orlando

Chevrolet Orlando – a real American muscle car which boasts a huge interior

Safety and technology are bywords for the Orlando, which has six airbags

THE ARRIVAL of Chevrolet's Orlando brings a new vehicle into the market place for the hard working family who needs a vehicle to be a Jack of all trades, writes Bob Hickman.

The family market up until now has been dominated by perhaps the Renault Scenic and Ford Galaxy but the arrival of Chevrolet's seven-seater Orlando has thrown down the gauntlet to these manufacturers with a vehicle that has a perfect mix of bold, brash, slab-like styling and new innovative design features.

With a choice of three engines and three trim levels the Orlando could be the vehicle that is an option for you if you have a large family or if your family is such that you need the bigger style of vehicle but also this vehicle has a trick up its sleeve because by dropping the seats it gives you a gigantic amount of space. There is 1,499 litres of space when all the rear seats are dropped; this is almost a transit van capacity.

The exterior appearance of the Orlando may not be to everyone's taste, I can see a lot of American influence and let's face it Chevrolet is an American muscle car company. It is a squared off solid chunky looking exterior and this translates in to an interior that is huge and is one of the Orlando's assets.

There is room for adults in all of the seats even the very back row of the seats could accommodate grownups for a reasonable journey; I concede headroom is at a premium but the seats are actually more than just for small children.

I like the interior, because this is the important area of the Orlando and where it is going to score over the competition. The amount of manoeuvrability and flexibility that the seats have is excellent, the middle and outer rows slide backwards and forwards, the absolute rear most seats drop away to give you excellent boot space both rows drop out of sight to give massive amount of luggage space.

I like the way the two rear rows are elevated slightly, Chevrolet suggest that it is like a theatre set-up but it does make for life in rear seats that much better and if it is going to ensconce the children they will absolutely love it.

Performer

There is a choice of three engines, one petrol and two diesels, the 1.8-litre petrol which was fitted to my test vehicle produces marginally over 140 bhp, and is sufficient to give a top speed of 115 mph and the CO2 emissions at 172 this vehicle is not going to fit in to the cheaper excise category. Chevrolet suggest 39 mpg may be achievable. The petrol engine in my derivative was equipped with a 5-speed gearbox and whilst the engine was never one to ignite a fire it proved to be a satisfactory performer.

The diesel options are both 2-litre but have been tuned slightly differently to give different power characteristics, so there is a choice between 160 bhp and 130 bhp. Both of these are reasonable in the economy situations, the 160 bhp for example should give a 47 mpg reading.

The three trim levels are badged as LS, LT and LTZ. On a vehicle of this type you want to be reassured that the vehicle is going to be safe in the event of an accident and a lot of technology has gone into the design, the body structure has been built using very high strength steel to create a passenger safety cage that will cocoon you in the event of an incident. There are six air bags, twin at the front and in addition side and curtain air bags are included.

Chevrolet have taken the step of introducing crash sensor technology, basically what this means that if the vehicle is involved in an accident the doors will automatically unlock due to the on-board detection system and this could be a very, very useful feature for the emergency services.

At the end of the day it is all about choices when you come to buy your new car, but certainly the Chevrolet Orlando gives you an awful lot of options, it has the facility to accommodate seven people, to be a luggage carrier, and workhorse by dropping down seats.

I am particularly impressed by Chevrolet's reliability, there is a tempting five year promise of an unlimited warranty which is transferable, but without doubt one of the biggest features and one really worth high consideration is the cost implication with prices starting at just marginally of £16,000 and topping out at just over £23,000 the Orlando makes a lot of sense when you consider what you are getting for that hard earned pound that you are spending.

With two rows of seats folded the Orlando offers a massive 1,499 litres of storage space

The Rapid, a new compact hatchback from Skoda, which lines up between the Fabia and Octavia

The new Skoda hatchback is unveiled at Beijing show

Skoda's all-new compact hatchback has been unveiled at Beijing in close-to-production form, and will be called the Rapid.

It really is all-new in design, because rather than replacing an existing model, the Rapid will sit between the Fabia and Octavia. In reality, it is likely to share certain parts with both.

European markets will see the EU version of the new car before the end of this year, and a China-specific model is on show at the Beijing Motor Show at the moment ahead of a 2013 release.

The Rapid follows many cues initially given by the MissionL concept that was shown at the Frankfurt show last year, and that many believed to be the model for the next Octavia.

In fact, the Rapid will be smaller than expected. It shares the same rough shape as the Octavia with an extended hatchback boot, but will be shorter and narrower.

Skoda CEO Winfried Vahland says: "As part of its growth strategy, Skoda has initiated the largest model offensive in its corporate history and will bring a new vehicle to market every six months on average in the years ahead."

"The Rapid is our next new model. It has a central importance for our growth and will provide us with a strong tailwind on international markets."

New-look version for the BMW super-coupé

BMW's Frozen Silver Edition of the M3. Just over 100 cars will be produced with a price tag of £58,720

BMW has announced a visually tweaked version of its M3 super-coupé, called the Frozen Silver Edition.

Just 100 of the cars will be produced. While it uses the same high-revving 414bhp V8 engine as the normal coupé, it rides 10mm lower with a revised version of BMW's Dynamic Stability Control Plus system.

The colour, a metallic pale silver with a hint of frosty blue, is new to BMW and is paired with matt black 19in alloy wheels, a "dark chrome" finish for the exhaust, side gills and kidney grille surrounds, and jet black bonnet vents.

Inside, the highlights include black leather seats with contrasting stitching and an Alcantara steering wheel with an M3 chequered flag motif to match the same logo on the doors.

Luxury

Carbon fibre trim accessories have been scattered around the cabin to enhance the luxury and sporting feel.

BMW claims that the extras included in the Frozen Silver Edition add up to £9,000, but are being included for a £4,000 premium over a standard coupé, making the price tag £58,720 on the road.

The M3 will hit 62mph in 4.6 seconds and is electronically limited to 155mph.

It achieved 25.2mpg in the standard European test sequence with a CO₂ rating of 263g/km.

BMW hopes that the Frozen Silver Edition will help maintain sales of the M3 coupé, which last year rose 10 per cent to 789 units.

MG beats best in major awards

MG HAS scooped a major design award with its MG Icon concept car.

It has been awarded the prestigious 'Best Concept' title at the Beijing Motor Show, one of the most sought-after awards on the international automotive show calendar.

The MG Icon beat the Lamborghini Urus, Mercedes-Benz Concept Style Coupe and Honda Concept C.

Autoweek, one of the USA's leading automotive magazines, announced the awards and will present MG with an engraved trophy at a later date.

Greg Kable, a highly acclaimed international motoring journalist and Autoweek's German editor, was glowing in his remarks about the Icon.

Kable said: "The Icon continues MG's resurrection under parent company SAIC Motor, bringing newly interpreted heritage style to the compact-SUV ranks in a package that will see it compete against the likes of Nissan Juke and the Mini Countryman."

No plans have been announced concerning production of the MG Icon.

It's the first SUV concept from MG and was created by the MG global design team headed by British director Anthony Williams-Kenny. It takes inspiration from some of the legendary MG models of the past, including the MGA and MGB GT.

Williams-Kenny said: "It's a great honour to win this very important award, particularly when the judges put the MG Icon ahead of so many other famous brands."

Toyota putting an end to the distance anxiety

A five-metre cable and charging set tucks away underneath the Prius's boot floor

PRIOUS Plug-in, which reaches showrooms in July, offers all the familiar virtues of Prius and quite a few more.

It is powered by a full hybrid powertrain, but thanks to new, rechargeable lithium-ion battery technology, it can cover longer distances and reach higher speeds on electric power alone.

Seamlessly Once the charge in the battery is used, the car switches seamlessly to its hybrid system, so there's no need for anxiety about distances.

As a result, Prius Plug-in achieves a new low benchmark in its class for official CO2 emissions, 49 g/km.

Recharging the battery is simple and speedy, using a power point linked to a standard supply, or a street charging point. Prius Plug-in comes with a charging set, including 5m of cabling, stored beneath the boot floor.

Prius Plug-in has LED daytime running lights and headlights; Toyota Touch and Go Plus with touchscreen controls; satellite navigation, voice recognition, rear-view camera and advanced Bluetooth, a DAB digital tuner, eight-speaker JBL sound system, rain-sensing wipers and cruise control.

Leather

Heated front seats, 15-inch alloy wheels with wheel caps and leather steering wheel trim are also included.

Black leather upholstery (£1,500) and rear privacy glass (£270) are available as options, together with a Protection Pack (rear parking sensors and boot liner) and a Style Pack (exterior chrome trim elements), both at £360.

Four exterior colours make up the palette for Prius Plug-in, led by Sky Blue (metallic), a new shade exclusive to the model. Tyrol Silver and Novus Grey metallics and White Pearl Pearlescent are also available.

In the cabin the upholstery is Minnow black fabric with optional Setana black leather.

The on-the-road price for Prius Plug-in is £32,895, but this falls to £27,895 with the benefit of the £5,000 Government grant available on new vehicle purchases, provided through the Office for Low Emission Vehicles (OLEV).

It's Roger and out as bowler claims six scalps

Coleshill 184-9, Penkridge 185-5. Penkridge won by five wickets
AFTER the first game of the season was abandoned without a ball bowled, Penkridge firsts returned to Birmingham League cricket with a hard-fought win against Colehill.

Some excellent bowling from Roger Weston (6-40) and Ross Shelton (2-17) restricted Colehill to 184-9 from their 55 overs.

Early wickets put Penkridge in some difficulty at 61-4.

But a superb partnership of 113 between Rana Hussan (104 not out) and Shafiq Ahmed (43) led them to victory with six wickets and five overs to spare.

Coleshill 141-6, Penkridge 145-2. Penkridge won by eight wickets

Penkridge seconds cruised to an eight-wicket win against Colehill at Pillaton.

After winning the toss and deciding to bowl, Faisal Nadeem made early inroads into the Colehill order.

He dismissed the first three opposition batsmen with only 14 runs on the board.

Some tight bowling from the remaining Penkridge bowlers restricted Colehill to just 141-6 off their 50 overs with Faisal the pick of the attack, taking 5-34.

Matt Jones was the star of the Penkridge reply, hitting a stylish 90 not out.

He was well supported by Kieran Smith who was unbeaten on 24 as Penkridge cruised to their required total with more than 20 overs to spare.

Penkridge 219, Springhill 183. Penkridge won by 36 runs

Penkridge's returning fourths finally got their season off and running with a fine 36-run victory over Springhill seconds.

Penkridge's innings was built around an excellent maiden half-century by young Sam Timmins, who made 51 not out of a total of 219.

His principal support came from Nadeem Tariq's 48.

A good all-round bowling performance saw Penkridge dismiss Springhill for 183 with James Heaton and Tariq claiming three wickets each.

Penkridge thirds' match against West Bromwich Dartmouth was abandoned without a ball bowled.

Match best seen in 30 years says coach

MITCHELL ROBERTS (Great Wyrley ABC) produced one of the best performances seen by a Great Wyrley boxer when he stopped Shaun Hewlett (Droitwich ABC) in the third round at a packed Droitwich Leisure Centre.

Great Wyrley head coach Pete Hickenbottom went so far as to call it one of the best fights he'd seen in his 30 years in the sport.

Hewlett, roared on by his home crowd, came out firing punches from all angles.

But he found the Wyrley boxer more than happy to meet him head on. The two swapped punches freely to the appreciation of the capacity crowd.

Round two began as the first with the taller Hewlett the first to land with an uppercut that seemed to have started from his ankles.

But it merely served to fire Roberts to greater efforts, and he backed his rival to the ropes where he fired away with heavy hooks to the body.

Hewlett, with nowhere to go sank to one knee and took an eight count, the bell ringing as he rose from the knockdown to end a breath-taking round. Hewlett seemed to have shaken off the effects as he again fired in big punches at Wyrley boxer.

But Roberts now had his measure and drove him to the ropes with hard punches to the head.

He then switched to the body and a big right hook which sent the Droitwich boxer to the canvas.

Hewlett got a brief breather as Roberts had his gumshield replaced, but there was no holding off the Wyrley man and more body punches again had Hewlett on his knees. Hewlett then backed into the Wyrley corner but the irresistible Roberts ended it mercifully with a chilling sequence of body punches that ripped the breath from the Droitwich boxer and ended a memorable contest.

Hickenbottom said afterwards: "Mitchell's intensity was the standout for me in this contest."

"He's the same in the gym with his training; he and twin brother Reece are the benchmark in the gym for fitness, and it was his fitness and power that won him the bout. But it takes two to make a memorable contest and well done to Shaun for his effort."

Eleven-year-old Oliver Cooper made his debut in the Wyrley colours and dropped a unanimous decision to Portsmouth boxer James Stanley.

Cooper took the first round, but lost his way in the next two, and Stanley outworked him to get the unanimous decision.

It was a learning debut for Cooper who must now seek to increase his gym work.

Opponents bowled out for 139 but game lost

Hawkins 139, Cannock and Rugeley 96. Hawkins won by 43 runs

CANNOCK and Rugeley firsts missed out on the chance of victory after bowling out their opponents for just 139.

Having won the toss and put Hawkins in, the home team's six bowlers forced a slow run rate.

Hawkins eventually limped to 139 all out in 48.3 overs – yet it was to prove a winning total.

Ryan Ponder was the lead wicket taker with 3-25 in 8.3 overs. Martin Weston also proved in good form with figures of 1-21 while James Lawley finished with 2-13.

However, Cannock and Rugeley's luck quickly changed in their innings and they were all out for 96 in just 35.5 overs.

Ejaz Nawaz led the way for Hawkins, taking 5-28 in a full 15-over spell which included six maidens.

Hawkins 125, Cannock and Rugeley 127-8. Cannock and Rugeley won by two wickets

Jock Caa'n's 30 not out enabled Cannock and Rugeley seconds to seize a narrow win over Hawkins.

Simon Cooper's 6-29 appeared to have set them up for victory as Hawkins were dismissed for just 125.

But Cannock and Rugeley, Darren Aston's 34 apart, struggled in turn in the face of some accurate bowling until the intervention of No.9 Caa'n.

Himley 50, Cannock and Rugeley 52-2. Cannock and Rugeley won by eight wickets Cannock and Rugeley thirds' dream start to the season continued with a comprehensive win against a youthful Himley side.

They won the toss and elected to bowl on a damp wicket at Cannock Wood.

Only opener Reece Hill, with 25, came to terms with the Cannock and Rugeley attack with no other batsman into double figures.

All the home side's bowlers did well with Alex Beech (4-24) the pick of the bunch.

Ed Lawley (3-10) and Ian Hawkins (1-2) picked up the other wickets and Lee Gallar conceded only 12 runs from seven tidy overs.

Paul Beech then saw Cannock & Rugeley home with 15 not out in partnership with Danny Mellor, before the latter was out for 19. Tim Thelwell (four not out) then joined Beech to see the hosts over the line for an eight-wicket victory.

Wood you believe it as Dan and Ant set up win

Whitmore Reans 68, Cannock 69-7. Cannock won by three wickets
CANNOCK thirds moved to the top of Staffs Clubs Division Three with a home victory over a Whitmore Reans side who are among the title favourites.

After being asked to bat first, the visitors made their intentions clear from the start and were looking to score at every opportunity. But on the damp wicket, batting was never going to be easy and a fine opening spell by Tom Bull (1-20) and Steve Varker (1-24) kept the run rate below three runs an over.

And when a direct hit by Varker produced a run out to leave Whitmore Reans 45-3, the Cannock attack had begun to take control.

A double bowling change saw the wickets begin to tumble with Ant Wood taking 3-16 and Dan Wood claiming 4-6 to wrap up the Whitmore Reans innings for just 68.

The Cannock reply started at a pace with Aaron Wilkes scoring 20 from just 13 balls.

Tricky

But with the fall of Wilkes, a collapse followed that saw Cannock precariously placed at 44-7. With the wicket proving as tricky for Cannock as for the visitors, Whitmoreans were now looking favourites but Dan Wood (20 not out) and Ant Wood (seven not out) batted carefully and sensibly to ease Cannock to their target to take 20 points to go top.

In Birmingham League Division Two, Cannock firsts lost by five wickets to Old Elizabethans. Cannock posted 156, but their opponents overhauled the target with five wickets in hand.

Cannock U11 277-5 (net 252), Wolverhampton U11 281-11 (net 226). Cannock won by 26 runs Cannock under-11s finally got their league campaign under way at Wolverhampton following the abandonment of their first match and cancellation of the second.

Cannock were put into bat and showed with real maturity, scoring 77 for the loss of five wickets to give a net total of 252. Matty Hill top scored with 10.

They did well in the field, bowling with real consistency as Jamie Hill, Alfie Mallen, Jake Ford and Henry Hardwick took two wickets apiece, Jake Smith claiming one.

Wicketkeeper Cameron Horn pitched in with a catch and a stumping. Oli Callow and Billy Cassidy bowled with miserly accuracy and Owain Thompson fielded superbly. Two run outs gave Cannock 11 wickets in all.

Bob's 24lb catch at Fisherwick is off the scale

DESPITE the damp conditions, Blackfords AC waters have started to fish well and the recent match at Calf Heath reservoir saw Will Harding clinch first place with 46lb 7oz of bream.

He was followed by Dave Ridgway with 43lb 2oz and Mike Perings with 38lb 5oz, writes Vernon Leadbetter.

Pleasure anglers also reported good sport with large numbers of bream and the odd quality roach being caught.

A 25lb 2oz mirror carp was the biggest fish reported from Leacroft Pool and several mid-doubles have been caught at Calf Heath with most fish being caught using boilies.

Blackfords season tickets are now available from Archline Angling at £20 per ticket (one rod).

■ At Fisherwick Lakes, fishing has also picked up and Bob Kingston – Bob the Bailiff – had a stunning 24lb 12oz common caught out of the old trout lake. The fish was transferred.

Best carp from the specimen pool was caught by Andy Parker from Lichfield, a 23lb 2oz mirror carp known as the "football fish".

Troul anglers have also been catching well with a rod average of 4.8 and the week's best fish a new lake record

Bob Kingston – Bob the Bailiff – with the 24lb 12oz fish he caught at Fisherwick rainbow trout caught by Sid Matlock weighing in at 8lb and caught on a cats whisker fly. He returned the fish alive.

Plenty of fish are being caught on buzzers and diawl bachs using floating and slow sinking lines.

■ On Saturday Archline are hosting a casting clinic day with Andy Taylor from the Hardy Greys academy. This gives enthusiasts a chance to polish their technique and try rods and line. Anyone interested in taking up fly fishing can get free tuition.

He's Keane as mustard for home showdown

WALSALL'S Christopher Keane believes he can get to the top quickly as he prepares to get more rounds in the bank with a home-town showdown.

The undefeated prospect will take in a six-rounder against Bulgarian cruiser-weight Tzvetan Trashlev at Walsall Town Hall on Saturday night, writes Craig Birch.

It's his second fight in less than two months and just his sixth despite turning professional in September 2009, having not boxed at all in 2011.

Keane is eager to make up for lost time in front of his home crowd, having blown away the cobwebs with a points win over Remigijus Ziausys in March.

Sharp

And the 26-year-old insists it won't take him long to climb up the ladder, having claimed a senior ABA title after just 16 fights in 2009.

His last amateur bout was boxing for England later that year and Keane wants to be rubbing shoulders with the best in the country again before long.

He said: "It's nice to box in my home town, there will be loads of people there that I know there and cheering me on."

"I know this guy is a southpaw, that's about it, but my last fight has blown off the cobwebs and I feel pretty sharp."

"I just want to keep getting out now, everything is about waiting in the pros and it has been frustrating. "I will turn up and fight anybody, nobody bothers me, all the others have on me is a bit of experience."

Tickets are available from Walsall Town Hall or by calling the box office on 0845 111 2900.

Skaters to take part in chiller of contest

FOUR competitors from the Cannock International Ice Skating Club are heading north this weekend for an inaugural competition.

The four, who skate at the town's Silver Blades rink, will compete at Dumfries in the first ever impaired skating competition.

Skaters, aged from 11 to 16, must have a physical or mental disability.

Club secretary Di Stanyard said: "This competition is a huge event in the calendar and a huge event for our small rink."

"Cannock has the smallest rink in the UK. It is a great privilege to have skaters compete in this mini Olympic-type event."

The event has been sanctioned by the National Ice Skating Association and competition rules have been put together from NISA and Special Olympic rules.

The competition will feature figure skating, dance and speed skating.

It will incorporate the first British Special Olympic figure skating championships and will be used to select four skaters to represent GB at next year's Special Olympics world winter games in Korea.

First Rubery Owen Trophy win to come

DARLSTON'S family-owned engineering business Rubery Owen will present the trophy to the inaugural winners of their very own cup competition.

Essington and Whittington will battle it out to become the first Rubery Owen Trophy winners at the scene of the Staffordshire Senior Cup final on Sunday.

The finalists were among the junior teams to enter the tournament last August, after going out of the Staffordshire Junior Cup.

Lichfield RFC will stage all of the day's rugby including the first final and the Senior Cup decider between Burton and Tamworth.

David Owen will present the trophy on the day and is the brother of John Owen, who was capped as a second-row forward at international level for England.

David said: "We gave them one of their earlier trophies, so this is another for the secondary final where they have got another chance."

"It's about keeping the clubs together."

Chasetown delay

CHASETOWN'S search for a new manager has been delayed – but the club still hope to make an appointment this week.

Interviews are still being held back at the Scholars Ground after a setback in compiling a shortlist prevented them from seeing people at the start of this week.

But assistant boss Andy Cox is still in the running to land the job permanently, after being invited back in for an informal chat.

Cox is one of three of the current back-room staff to apply for the top job, along with reserve team manager Andy Penny and youth team coach Andy Turner.

All three took charge for one game after

Chris Brindley was sacked last month, as the team were relegated from the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League.

Now each of the trio wants the chance to be a manager in his own right, but there has been plenty of interest in the role from outside of the club.

The board of directors, which includes long-serving former manager Charlie Blakemore, are keen to have the new boss in place as quickly as possible.

The entire squad is soon to be out-of-contract and the club fear their star men could be enticed away by offers of higher division football after the drop.

Keys Park awards

HEDNESFORD will round off the season by holding their end-of-season awards presentation at Keys Park next Friday night.

The mood in the Pitmen camp is still sombre after their 5-0 play-off semi-final humbling at Bradford Park Avenue.

But those attending on the night will be urged to look at the positives from the campaign, which saw them finish in fifth place.

They did the double over derby rivals Stafford Rangers for the first time in over 60 years and won at Evo-Stik Northern Premier League champions Chester.

The season, ultimately, ended in play-off disappointment for the third season in a row but supporters' club joint chairman Scott Smith is staying upbeat.

He said: "The heavy defeat against Bradford will stay with us all summer, but it's vitally important that the fans pull together."

"They should show their support for the squad of players who gave their all throughout a tough season."

"The presentation evening will give the fans the chance to reflect on an ultimately successful season."

Tickets are available by contacting the club on 01543 422 870. They are priced at £3 for supporters club members and £4 for non-members. Doors open at 7.30pm.

UK bowlers sign up for inaugural encounter

Turner, who died suddenly last October, played at Chads Moor Progressive for many years and also made several appearances for the Staffordshire county team.

All 64 places in the tournament which is being staged in his memory were filled within a fortnight.

PITMEN STAR PLOTS MOVE TO PRO CLUB

HEDNESFORD midfielder Chris Clements today appeared set for a move back into full-time football with Mansfield heading the list of possible suitors.

Pitmen boss Rob Smith confirmed that he had spoken to his Mansfield counterpart Paul Cox about Clements this week, but insisted that no formal talks had taken place.

The ex-Crewe trainee was on trial at Championship club Burnley last week and is keen to return to the pro game.

Smith said: "The ball is in Mansfield's court – as yet it's a conversation between two managers."

"We spoke about many things and Chris was something that was mentioned."

And Smith confirmed that the club have taken their option to extend Clements' contract for another year, so they should be compensated if the player moves on.

The manager said: "There is interest from a lot of Blue Square Premier clubs and, although we are keen to keep him, I wouldn't want to stand in the way of a full-time offer."

"I have spoken to Chris and I totally accept he wants to play at a higher level – in some ways he needs to move on, but any deal also has to be right for the club."

Clements scored in Burnley's reserve match against Tranmere last week, helping the Clarets to take a 3-1 win.

The 22-year-old has caught the eye since arriving from Crewe in March 2010, following a short loan spell at Keys Park.

In his second season at the club, the Birmingham-born man landed the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League's Young Player of the Year award and was nominated for the Non-League Paper's

by Andy Mitchell

Step Three Player of the Year gong.

Clements felt his Burnley trial went well, but added that he would only leave Hednesford for a move to a full-time club.

He said: "It did me good to have the opportunity to show what I can do – there was a lot more passing, which suited me."

"I was nervous and just wanted to impress whoever was watching."

"But it went well, once I had settled down, and just playing at Turf Moor was an experience in itself."

"I want to play as high as I can, either in the Football League or full-time football and I wouldn't want to go anywhere else if it was only part-time."

"Since I left Crewe, Hednesford have taken me in and I have learned a lot."

Clements' agent Gino Culbertson revealed Burnley have already asked to take a closer look at the player.

Culbertson said: "Chris impressed tremendously at Burnley and they want him back in pre-season."

"But we have to look at all options – it's very important he makes the right move at this stage of his career."
